HARVARD UNIVERSITY PRESS

CHARLES CHESTER LANE, A.M., Director

INAUGURATED primarily for the publication of books of a high scholarly character, the Harvard University Press aims to aid in the advancement of knowledge by making possible the wide distribution of the work of the foremost scholars of the world. It will also help in promptly disseminating the results of original research and investigation by printing a number of serial publications. It does not plan, however, to compete with the commercial publisher, since its chief function will be the issuing of books that would not be commercially profitable.

The Press was formally established at a meeting of the President and Fellows of Harvard College, held on January 13, 1913, and the integrity of its service in the cause of scholarship has been safeguarded by the appointment of the following Syndics of the Press. No book can be accepted for publication which does not receive the endorsement of this board.

RECENT AND FORTHCOMING BOOKS

PAPERS AND ADDRESSES BY ELIHU ROOT.

Edited by ROBERT BACON and JAMES BROWN SCOTT. In press.

It is proposed to issue Mr. Root's addresses and papers as a series of companion volumes, each one, however, complete in itself; his lectures, his addresses, formal and informal, and the state papers written in the performance of his duties as an executive officer of the United States. These latter include his reports as Secretary of War, his instructions as Secretary of State to the American delegates to the Second Hague Peace Conference, and certain of his more important diplomatic notes. It is planned to keep the official documents separate from the others except in the case of the volume devoted to military organization and colonial policy. Here will be included such portions of Mr. Root's reports as Secretary of War as throw light on these subjects.

The various addresses which have been selected for publication have been classified in such a way that each volume will include as nearly as possible addresses related by a common purpose and illustrative of each phase of Mr. Root's activity, thus enabling the reader to form a clear-cut and accurate opinion as to his achievements in each field.

The titles of the volumes now in press are as follows:—

International Law and Foreign Relations.

Government, Administration, and Legal Procedure.

Central and South America and the United States.

Military Organization and Colonial Policy.

The North Atlantic Fisheries Arbitration.

Political, Historical, and Commemorative Addresses.

A BIBLIOGRAPHY OF MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

By WILLIAM BENNETT MUNRO, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor of Municipal Government in Harvard University. Second Edition. 8vo. Cloth. 472 pages. $2.50.

A classified list of the best materials available for study in every branch of municipal affairs. By far the larger part of the references are to publications which have appeared within the last twelve or fifteen years. Great care has been taken to arrange the references so that they will be easily found, and most of them have critical notes. An elaborate author-and-subject index is appended.

"His divisions comprise, besides general works, items on political machinery and direct legislation, municipal organization, city planning and public improvements, public utilities, sanitation and public health, public safety, education and general betterment, and municipal finance. . . . The volume fills, not a long-felt want, but one felt with increasing keenness." — The Nation, New York.

AN APPROACH TO BUSINESS PROBLEMS.

By ARCH WILKINSON SHAW, A.M., Lecturer on Business Policy in Harvard University, and Editor of "System." 8vo. Cloth. $2.00. In press.

This discussion of the most effective method of attacking a business problem ranges over the three great fields of production, distribution, and administration. In view of the fact that the activities of production have been reduced to fairly generally accepted standards, the author begins with this phase of business and after demonstrating in this known and charted field a method of analysis and systematic approach, he shows how the same method could be applied to the problems of distribution and administration.

SOME PROBLEMS IN MARKET DISTRIBUTION.

By ARCH WILKINSON SHAW, A.M., Lecturer on Business Policy in Harvard University, and Editor of "System." Second Impression. 16mo. Cloth. 119 pages. $1.00.

Although marketing problems are even more complicated than those of manufacturing (because of the more direct importance in them of the human factor), selling methods have, in the past, been purely empirical, and have resulted in much waste. Mr. Shaw has long been recognized as expert in the means of minimizing this empirical aspect, by scientific analysis or well-directed experiment. The present volume, based on the results of his experience, deals in particular with price policies, the differentiation of commodities, and the choice and place of middlemen.

"The thing to be learned from such books is . . . business strategy, which includes everything from the production of an article to the placing of it in the hands of the customer." — The Economist.

"The whole book is an argument for logic and laboratory methods in place of the rule-of-thumb business practice of the past." — The Nation, New York.

TWO COMMENCEMENT ADDRESSES.

By HENRY CABOT LODGE, LL.B., Ph.D., LL.D., United States Senator from Massachusetts. 12mo. Cloth. 44 pages. 35 cents.

The first of these addresses, delivered at the Commencement of Radcliffe College in 1915, is a plea for the retention of the humanities in college education in the face of the popular demand for an education whose chief aim is to meet the requirements of "the money test." The address at the presentation of the Widener Memorial Library to Harvard University, emphasizes the incomparable value of such a collection not only to the student but also for the larger intellectual life.

THE SECOND PARTITION OF POLAND: A STUDY IN DIPLOMATIC HISTORY.

By ROBERT HOWARD LORD, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of History in Harvard University. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. XXIII. 8vo. Cloth. 618 pages. $2.25.

A comprehensive account of the series of events which began with the outbreak of the Russo-Turkish war in 1787 and ended in the new dismemberment of Poland six years later. The book is based upon extensive researches in the archives of Petrograd, Moscow, Berlin, and Vienna, and upon the copious materials printed in Russian, Polish, and the Western languages. It is the first detailed history of the Second Partition.

"An admirably careful unwinding of the most tortuous and intricate tangle of intrigue in the entire eighteenth century." — The Independent.

"(Dr. Lord) has managed to trace a narrative which is clear and convincing . . . (and) has written a volume which is much more readable than most monographs on diplomatic history." — American Historical Review.

WILLIBALD: THE LIFE OF SAINT BONIFACE.

Translated into English for the first time, with Introduction and Notes, by GEORGE WASHINGTON ROBINSON, A.B., Secretary of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 114 pages. $1.15.

The importance of the work of Boniface cannot easily be exaggerated. He was one of the foremost scholars of his time, the introducer of learning to the German lands, the champion of ecclesiastical uniformity in Central Europe, and a leader in the Christian warfare against the heathen of the North. In this translation of his life the student of mediaeval history will find much valuable material.

STUDIES IN ANGLO-NORMAN INSTITUTIONS.

By CHARLES HOMER HASKINS, Ph.D., Litt.D., Gurney Professor of History in Harvard University. In preparation.

SOCIAL ADAPTATION: A STUDY IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE DOCTRINE OF ADAPTATION AS A THEORY OF SOCIAL PROGRESS.

By LUCIUS MOODY BRISTOL, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Sociology in West Virginia University. Harvard Economic Studies, Vol. XIV. 8vo. Cloth. xii + 356 pages. $2.00.

Considering for the social group those questions which the individual ponders concerning his own existence, Dr. Bristol traces the development of a doctrine of social adaptation comparable to Darwin's theory of biological evolution. The social theories of Comte, Spencer, Nietzsche, and Marx are reviewed and their contributions towards a constructive social philosophy founded on the conception of adaptation are analyzed.

The purpose of this book, which was awarded the David A. Wells prize for 1914-15, "is to show how the doctrine of adaptation is coming more and more to be considered the key to social philosophy, and how this doctrine has evolved." . . . — Boston Evening Transcript.

THE FINANCIAL HISTORY OF BOSTON.

By CHARLES PHILLIPS HUSE, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Economics and Social Science in Boston University. Harvard Economic Studies, Vol. XV. 8vo. Cloth. 385 pages. $2.00.

A study of the financial development of the city of Boston from the simple town economy of a hundred years ago into the complex municipal system of today. The economic and political growth of the city are also considered and the effect upon expenditures of such factors as immigration are discussed. The book should prove of value to students of municipal finance and government as well as to those specifically interested in the history of Boston.

LECTURES ON THE INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION.

By EDWIN FRANCIS GAY, Ph.D., Professor of Economics and Dean of the Graduate School of Business Administration in Harvard University. In preparation.

A TREATISE ON THE CONFLICT OF LAWS.

By JOSEPH HENRY BEALE, A.M., LL.B., LL.D., Royall Professor of Law in Harvard University. Vol. I., Part I. 8vo. Paper. lxxx + 189 pages. $1.10.

Professor Beale has undertaken to write a treatise on the Conflict of Laws, which not only shall serve as a thorough discussion of the principles which are involved in this branch of the law, but also shall contain such a collection and examination of the decisions as may be useful for a lawyer in active practice. According to the plans of the author, the work will extend to at least two volumes of one thousand pages each, and will require several years for its completion. It has been deemed best to issue from time to time "advance sheets" in parts of about two hundred and fifty pages each. These will be sold for $1.10, and payments made for the parts will be regarded as a prepayment to that extent of the subscription price, $6.00 per volume.

SHAKSPERE.

By GEORGE LYMAN KITTREDGE, LL.D., Litt.D., Professor of English in Harvard University. 16mo. Cloth. 75 pages. 50 cents.

An address delivered on April 23 at Sanders Theatre, Cambridge.

A STUDY OF GAWAIN AND THE GREEN KNIGHT.

By GEORGE LYMAN KITTREDGE, LL.D., Litt.D., Professor of English in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 323 pages. $2.00.

This new book from Professor Kittredge's pen will appeal to all students of mediaeval literature, whether in English, French, or Celtic, and also to all students of folk-lore and the science and psychology of early man. The story of Gawain and the Green Knight furnishes excellent material for comparative study, and is here taken up from an historical and analytical point of view. A bibliographical note is appended with a summary account of each of the most important documents cited.

THE GEORGICS AND ECLOGUES OF VIRGIL.

Translated by the late THEODORE CHICKERING WILLIAMS, S.T.B., Litt.D., with an Introduction by George Herbert Palmer, Alford Professor of Natural Religion, Moral Philosophy, and Civil Polity, Emeritus, in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 166 pages. $1.00.

A metrical translation of the country poetry of Virgil by the author of a notable translation of Virgil's Aeneid.

These pastorals, written for the most part in Virgil's youth, exercised a great influence on the poets of later times. The verses are full of love of nature and of sympathetic understanding of the toil and rewards of the husbandman. They are here presented in charming English measure, reflecting with fullness and accuracy the many shades of the original.

"(Mr. Williams's) translation is far above the average and . . . attains a high level both by the accuracy of its rendering and by the ease and fluency of its style." — Cambridge Review.

THE SUPERNATURAL IN TRAGEDY.

By CHARLES EDWARD WHITMORE, Ph.D., Instructor in English in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 370 pages. $1.75.

Contents: Part I., Antiquity; Part II., The Middle Ages and the Renaissance; Part III., Some Modern Aspects; The Function of the Supernatural in Tragedy; Bibliography.

The first work to attempt a general survey of this field. Its aim is twofold: to show in what ways the tragic writers of Greece, Italy, France, and England, in both ancient and modern times, have introduced the supernatural into their works; and, on the basis of this historical study, to discuss the dramatic and aesthetic value of their methods.

POETIC ART IN BALLAD AND EPIC.

By FRANCIS BARTON GUMMERE, Ph.D., Litt.D., Professor of English in Haverford College. Harvard Studies in Comparative Literature, Vol. V. In preparation.

ARISTOTLE: METEOROLOGY.

Edited by FRANCIS HOWARD FOBES, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Greek in Union College. In preparation.

The text of this edition is based upon recollections of the one early and three late MSS. used for the large Berlin edition, collations of four additional MSS., the evidence of the Greek commentators, and the twelfth-century Latin version, by Aristippus, of Book IV. Whereas most editions, disregarding the oldest MS., have followed closely the second-oldest, this edition presupposes that the MSS. fall not into two families but into three and that therefore it is unsafe, without special evidence in every case, to follow closely any one MS. or family. Comprehensive critical apparatus is included.

HARVARD STUDIES IN CLASSICAL PHILOLOGY. VOL. XXVII.

Edited by a Committee of the Classical Instructors in Harvard University: ALBERT ANDREW HOWARD, Ph.D., CHARLES BURTON GULICK, Ph.D., and CARL NEWELL JACKSON, Ph.D. 8vo. Boards. $1.50.

Contents: "The Doctrine of Literary Forms," by R. K. HACK; "The Historical Socrates in the Light of Professor Burnet's Hypothesis," by C. P. PARKER; "The Chorus of Euripides," by A. E. PHOUTRIDES; etc.

PERSONALITY IN GERMAN LITERATURE BEFORE LUTHER.

By KUNO FRANCKE, Ph.D., LL.D., L.H.D., Professor of the History of German Culture in Harvard University. Ready in June.

This volume contains six lectures delivered in the winter of 1915 at the Lowell Institute and subsequently under the Jacob H. Schiff Foundation, at Cornell University. Its main theme is the rise and spread of individualism, and its principal subdivisions are: Chivalric Minnesong and the Courtly Epic; The great Mystics of the fourteenth century; Popular Satire and Popular Song of the end of the Middle Ages; The Religious Drama of the fifteenth century; Erasmus and the Humanist Enlightenment; Ulrich von Hutten and the Humanist Revolt. An attempt is made to trace in these various forms of literary and intellectual life of the centuries preceding the Reformation a steady line of transition from aristocratic to democratic conceptions of personality.

COMMENTARY TO THE GERMANIC LAWS AND MEDIAEVAL DOCUMENTS.

By LEO WIENER, Professor of the Slavic Languages and Literatures in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. lxi + 224 pages. $3.25.

A comprehensive study, based on the examination of a large amount of documentary evidence, of some hundreds of words which the author feels have heretofore been wrongly treated by philologists. The volume should prove of interest not only to students of Germanic and Romance philology, but also to students of mediaeval law and economic history.

MAISTRE CHARLES FONTAINE: PARISIEN.

By RICHMOND LAURIN HAWKINS, Ph.D., Instructor in French in Harvard University. Harvard Studies in Romance Languages, Vol. II. In press.

Charles Fontaine, proof-reader, editor, teacher, poet, and translator, is a good example of the many-sided Frenchman of the Renaissance. Having travelled in Italy, he came under the influence of Italian writers, and was one of the earliest Platonists in French literature. The author has sought to show that Fontaine was a disciple of Clément Marot, a precursor of the Pléiade, and "a living library of the sixteenth century." In the appendix will be found a minute description of Fontaine's works and a brief consideration of his son Jean.

A LOAN EXHIBITION OF EARLY ITALIAN ENGRAVINGS.—FOGG ART MUSEUM. A descriptive catalogue prepared by PAUL JOSEPH SACHS, A.B., Assistant Director of the Museum. Quarto. Paper. 357 pages. Illustrated. $2.00.

A carefully prepared record of what was probably the most representative exhibition of early Italian intaglio engravings ever held in the United States.

EUTHYMIIDES AND HIS FELLOWS.

By JOSEPH CLARK HOPPIN, Ph.D., sometime Professor of the Greek Language and Literature in the American School of Classical Studies at Athens. In press.

The vase-painter, Euthymides, was active in Athens about the beginning of the fifth century B.C. The marked individuality of his school has made it possible to identify numerous pieces of pottery, which are here described and illustrated by cuts or plates.

GIOTTO AND SOME OF HIS FOLLOWERS.

By OSVALD SIRÉN, Ph.D., Professor of the History of Art in the University of Stockholm. In press.

Dr. Sirén is one of the most prominent living students and critics of early Italian art. Aside from a comparatively small space assigned to biographical material, the book is a detailed and critical consideration of Giotto's paintings and those of six of his school. It is profusely illustrated with full-page and smaller reproductions of the subjects treated.

DOMINE SALVUM FAC PRAESIDEM NOSTRUM.

By JOHN KNOWLES PAINE, A.M., Mus.D., late Professor of Music in Harvard University. For Chorus of Men's Voices and Orchestra. Opus 8. Accompaniment arranged by ARTHUR FOOTE, A.M. Quarto. Paper. 15 pages. 50 cents.

Composed for and performed at the inauguration of Thomas Hill as President of Harvard University, March 4, 1863, and at the inauguration of President Charles William Eliot, October 19, 1869.

GENETICS AND EUGENICS.

By WILLIAM ERNEST CASTLE, Ph.D., Professor of Zoölogy in Harvard University. In press.

A textbook for students of biology and a work of reference for animal and plant breeders. The volume presents an introduction to the study of genetics, designed to outline the guiding principles of the new science, its methods of work, and its chief results as applied to the improvement of domestic animals, cultivated plants, and human society.

STATE SANITATION: A REVIEW OF THE WORK OF THE MASSACHUSETTS STATE BOARD OF HEALTH, 1869-1914.

By GEORGE CHANDLER WHIPPLE, S.B., Gordon McKay Professor of Sanitary Engineering in Harvard University. In press.

The Massachusetts State Board of Health was the first and has long been one of the foremost organizations of its kind in the United States. Its annual reports, issued regularly since 1870, and its many special reports cover almost every phase of sanitation and public-health activity. Some of the scientific writings of its experts are justly regarded by sanitarians as modern classics.

Professor Whipple, a member of the Council of the present State Department of Health, here reviews the work and documents of the Board. The book will be published in two volumes of about 500 pages each, uniform in size with the annual reports. It should be of value to all American engineers, sanitarians, and health officers, to students of preventive medicine, and especially to the physicians and citizens of Massachusetts.

REPORT OF FIRST EXPEDITION TO SOUTH AMERICA, 1913.
HARVARD SCHOOL OF TROPICAL MEDICINE. Quarto. Cloth. 220 pages
+ xlviii plates. $2.50.

Detailed records of an investigation of certain forms of tropical disease in South America, particularly verruga peruviana. The members of the expedition were Richard P. Strong, Professor of Tropical Medicine; Ernest E. Tyzzer, Assistant Professor of Pathology; Charles T. Brues, Assistant Professor of Economic Entomology; A. W. Sellards, Associate in Tropical Medicine; and J. C. Gastiaburn, Director of the Municipal Laboratory of Hygiene, Lima.

NICHIREN: THE BUDDHIST PROPHET.

By MASAHIRO ANESAKI, A.M., Litt.D., Professor of the Science of Religion in the Imperial University of Tokyo. In press.

Nichiren, though little known in the West, is one of the most interesting figures in the history of Japanese Buddhism. Professor Anesaki here discloses the striking personality of the man through his own writings and letters. In an appendix he discusses the Buddhist Theory of Reality in a way to make it as intelligible as possible to the minds of Western readers.

THE RELIGIOUS THOUGHT OF THE GREEKS FROM HOMER TO THE TRIUMPH OF CHRISTIANITY.

By CLIFFORD HERSCHEL MOORE, Ph.D., Litt.D., Professor of Latin in Harvard University. In press.

This history of Greek religious ideas will be of importance to all who are interested in the ancient classical world, in philosophy, and in the history of religion. It deals primarily with the genetic development of the higher phases of religion, and discusses also ancient morality, Roman religion, oriental cults, and early Christianity.

JUDAISM AT THE BEGINNING OF THE CHRISTIAN ERA.

By GEORGE FOOT MOORE, A.M., D.D., LL.D., Frothingham Professor of the History of Religions in Harvard University. In preparation.

THE RELIGIOUS HISTORY OF NEW ENGLAND.

By J. WINTHROP PLATNER, D.D., Andover Professor of Ecclesiastical History in Harvard University; GEORGE E. HORN, D.D., President of the Newton Theological Institution; GEORGE HODGES, D.D., D.C.L., LL.D., Dean of the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge; WILLIAM WALLACE FENN, D.D., Dean of the Faculty of Divinity in Harvard University; WILLIAM E. HUNTINGTON, D.D., Dean of the School of Theology in Boston University; RUFUS MATTHEW JONES, Litt.D., Professor of Philosophy at Haverford College; JOHN COLEMAN ADAMS, D.D.; and WILLIAM L. WORCESTER, President of the New Church Theological School, Cambridge. In press.

Lectures given in Boston in 1915 and 1916 which attempt to give a sympathetic description of the contributions of the several Christian denominations to the religious life and thought of New England.

HARVARD STUDIES IN THEOLOGY

Under the general direction of the Faculty of Divinity of Harvard University, it is planned to publish at frequent intervals a series of Harvard Studies in Theology, in which will appear contributions to knowledge and thought in all the departments of theology by members of the Harvard faculty and other scholars. The numbers will constitute a uniform series, but will vary in number of pages from small pamphlets to considerable volumes. Announcement of further numbers which have been definitely arranged, will be made shortly.

THE ARAMAIC SOURCE OF ACTS 1-15.

By CHARLES CUTLER TORREY, D.D., Professor of the Semitic Languages in Yale University. Harvard Studies in Theology, Vol. I. In press.

THE PAULINE IDEA OF FAITH IN ITS RELATION TO JEWISH AND HELLENISTIC RELIGION.

By WILLIAM HENRY PAYNE HATCH, D.D., Professor of the Language and Literature of the New Testament in the General Theological Seminary, New York. Harvard Studies in Theology, Vol. II. In press.

I. HISTORY, ECONOMICS, AND SOCIAL SCIENCE

HISTORY AND POLITICAL SCIENCE

MANUAL OF AMERICAN HISTORY, DIPLOMACY, AND GOVERNMENT.

By ALBERT BUSHNELL HART, Ph.D., LL.D., Litt.D., Eaton Professor of the Science of Government in Harvard University. Third Impression. 8vo. Cloth. xxvi + 554 pages. $2.00.

This volume includes the outlines of three detailed courses in history, diplomacy, and government which would extend over an entire college year, three lists of thirty lectures suitable for summer schools or university extension, three sets of class-room papers, and comprehensive bibliographies which will be of special assistance to the investigator, debater, or thesis writer.

STUDIES IN ANGLO-NORMAN INSTITUTIONS.

By CHARLES HOMER HASKINS, Ph.D., Litt.D., Gurney Professor of History and Political Science in Harvard University. In preparation.

GOVERNMENTS AND PARTIES IN CONTINENTAL EUROPE.

By ABBOTT LAWRENCE LOWELL, LL.D., Ph.D., President of Harvard University. Twenty-second Impression. 8vo. Cloth. 2 vols. $5.00.

This volume, now printed for the twenty-second time, has won general recognition as an authoritative survey of European government. In tracing the principles adopted in each country from English constitutional history and those features which were native in origin, it provides an admirable introduction to the practical study of political theory as well as to European conditions.

"Lowell and Bryce are, in short, for the whole English-speaking world, the leading constitutionalists of the day." — The Nation.

THE GOVERNMENTS OF FRANCE, ITALY, AND GERMANY.

By ABBOTT LAWRENCE LOWELL, LL.D., Ph.D., President of Harvard University. Fourth Impression. 8vo. Cloth. viii + 217 pages. $1.25.

An abridgment and revision of the author's well-known study of "Governments and Parties in Continental Europe." It has been issued to make easily available for college use the standard treatment of governmental machinery in the chief states of the Continent.

SELECTIONS FROM THE FEDERALIST.

Edited, with an Introduction, by WILLIAM BENNETT MUNRO, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor of Municipal Government in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 202 pages. $1.00.

Designed to meet the need of college students, this volume presents a carefully edited selection of the most significant papers from the Federalist. In clearness both of thought and expression, these letters of Hamilton, Jay, and Madison are not surpassed in the whole range of American political literature. As a commentary on the Constitution, and an exponent of the political ideals and philosophy of its founders, the Federalist has not received due attention in the training of young men for clear-headed citizenship. The text used is that of the original collected edition, 1788, as edited by Madison, and now newly revised.

EUGIPPIUS: THE LIFE OF SAINT SEVERINUS.

Translated, with Notes and Appendices, by GEORGE WASHINGTON ROBINSON, A.B., Secretary of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 141 pages, with map. $1.50.

The first English translation of one of the most important documents dealing with the life of the fifth century — the work which Teuffel, the historian of Latin literature, terms “the incomparable biography of Saint Severinus.” His work in preserving the remnants of Roman civilization in Rhaetia and Noricum led to his being made one of the patron saints of Austria.

WILLIBALD: THE LIFE OF SAINT BONIFACE.

Translated into English for the first time, with Introduction and Notes, by GEORGE WASHINGTON ROBINSON, A.B., Secretary of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 114 pages. $1.15. (See page 8.)

PAPERS AND ADDRESSES BY ELIHU ROOT.

LIST OF REFERENCES ON THE HISTORY OF THE WEST.
EDITION OF 1915.

By FREDERICK JACKSON TURNER, Ph.D., Litt.D., LL.D., Professor of History in Harvard University. Third Edition. 8vo. Paper. 130 pages. 75 cents.

In this work Professor Turner has assembled, under fifty-two main topical divisions, a comprehensive bibliography covering the historical, economic, social, and political development of the West. It is arranged primarily for prescribed courses of study in Western history as followed at Harvard University, and a suggestive list of thesis topics is given in connection with the topical references. The arrangement of the material, however, according to related periods and subjects, and the wide range of interests included, make it a valuable reference list for general readers in this field.

COMMENTARY TO THE GERMANIC LAWS AND MEDIAEVAL DOCUMENTS.

By LEO WIENER, Professor of the Slavic Languages and Literatures in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. lxi + 224 pages. $3.25. (See page 12.)

HARVARD HISTORICAL STUDIES

Published under the direction of the Department of History and Government in Harvard University from the income of the Henry Warren Torrey Fund. The volumes in the series represent in all cases the work of instructors or advanced students in the Department of History and Government.

THE SUPPRESSION OF THE AFRICAN SLAVE-TRADE TO THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, 1638-1870.

By WILLIAM EDWARD BURGHARDT DU BOIS, Ph.D., Editor of "The Crisis," and recently Professor of History in Atlanta University. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. I. 8vo. Cloth. xi + 335 pages. $1.50.

This exhaustive treatise is based upon a study of national, state, and colonial statutes, Congressional documents, reports of societies, personal narratives, and other original sources. It traces the rise of public opinion in the colonial period, the influence of the Haytian Revolution and the Act of 1807 in the South, the development of international action, and other economic, moral, and political conditions, which led to the final crisis.

THE CONTEST OVER THE RATIFICATION OF THE FEDERAL CONSTITUTION IN THE STATE OF MASSACHUSETTS.

By SAMUEL BANNISTER HARDING, Ph.D., Professor of European History in Indiana University. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. II. 8vo. Cloth. vi + 194 pages. $1.25.

The purpose of this volume is thus expressed in the Preface: "The work was undertaken largely from a belief that only through a more thorough study than had hitherto been made of the internal political history of the States, in the period during and immediately following the Revolution, could a right understanding be obtained of the subsequent party struggles in national politics by which the interpretation of the Constitution was fixed and the scope and general policy of the new government were determined."

A CRITICAL STUDY OF NULLIFICATION IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

By DAVID FRANKLIN HOUSTON, A.M., LL.D., Secretary of Agriculture. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. III. 8vo. Cloth. x + 169 pages. $1.25.

The aim of this volume is to trace the development of the nullification movement as a popular tendency rather than as the work of its conspicuous exponents. Stress is laid upon the peculiar relations of nullification in South Carolina to the slavery question and the history of the secession precedents from 1824 to the climax before the war. New principles and viewpoints are brought to light which have previously escaped attention.

NOMINATIONS FOR ELECTIVE OFFICE IN THE UNITED STATES.

By FREDERICK WILLIAM DALLINGER, A.M., LL.B., Member of Congress from Massachusetts. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. IV. Third Impression. 8vo. Cloth. xiv + 290 pages. $1.50.

The first comprehensive presentation of the history and bearings of this very important part of our governmental machinery. The discussion of the origin of the evils that have arisen in our nominating system is particularly clear, and derives especial cogency from the author's experience in state and local politics. His treatment of remedies is both exhaustive and penetrating. A bibliography and full appendices add to the value of the work.

A BIBLIOGRAPHY OF BRITISH MUNICIPAL HISTORY, INCLUDING GILDS AND PARLIAMENTARY REPRESENTATION.

By CHARLES GROSS, Ph.D., LL.D., late Gurney Professor of History and Political Science in Harvard University. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. V. Second Impression. 8vo. Cloth. xxxiv + 461 pages. $2.50.

This bibliography includes the titles of books, pamphlets, magazine articles, and papers of learned societies, relating wholly or in part to British municipal history and government. The Introduction gives a brief survey and critical account of the sources. Part I is devoted to general authorities, and Part II takes up particular towns. All titles of importance are accompanied by comments.

THE LIBERTY AND FREE SOIL PARTIES IN THE NORTH-WEST.

By THEODORE CLARKE SMITH, Ph.D., Professor of History in Williams College. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. VI. 8vo. Cloth. xii + 351 pages. $1.75.

The local history of ante-bellum politics has received insufficient attention from students of our national history. This volume brings out clearly not only the growth of the anti-slavery movement in the old Northwest, but its intimate relation to the national parties, and the development of Northern sentiment in the decades preceding the war.

THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNOR IN THE ENGLISH COLONIES OF NORTH AMERICA.

By EVARTS BOUTELL GREENE, Ph.D., Professor of History in the University of Illinois. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. VII. 8vo. Cloth. x + 292 pages. $1.50.

A study of a most important aspect of the constitution of those royal and proprietary colonies which later became parts of the United States, i.e., all the original thirteen but Rhode Island and Connecticut. The beginnings of constitutional government are traced; then follows a more detailed historical study of the crucial period in the colonies' history — from the Revolution of 1688 to the close of the last French war.

THE COUNTY PALATINE OF DURHAM: A STUDY IN CONSTITUTIONAL HISTORY.

By GAILLARD THOMAS LAPSLEY, Ph.D., Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. VIII. 8vo. Cloth. xii + 380 pages. $2.00.

The three English palatinates of Durham, Chester, and Lancaster — of which Durham had by far the longest history — were in effect great fiefs comparable to the French duchy. Their organization provides a striking contrast to English feudalism; yet in its treatment of local, social, and economic questions, it formed a microcosm of the English kingdom. Its survival until the Tudor period — the last feudal system in England — and its final absorption into the national jurisdiction involved the formulation of new principles of the common law, and illustrate the vitality of the English constitution which could absorb without injury so alien a growth.

THE ANGLICAN EPISCOPATE AND THE AMERICAN COLONIES.

By ARTHUR LYON CROSS, Ph.D., Professor of European History in the University of Michigan. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. IX. 8vo. Cloth. x + 368 pages. $2.50.

The history of colonial relations to the Anglican episcopate is treated, first from the point of view of the jurisdiction of the Bishop of London, and then from that of the attempts to establish an American bishopric. The controversies in regard to these attempts are shown to be mainly political in motive; and hence the conclusion is reached that religious dissension was not so much the impelling cause as a contributory accompaniment of the causes of the Revolution. Full appendices furnish a collection of original material of the first importance.

THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTIONARY ARMY.

By LOUIS CLINTON HATCH, Ph.D. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. X. 8vo. Cloth. viii + 229 pages. $1.50.

Beginning with the colonial militia, the author illustrates the dissension and inexperience of the American army, and the political causes which made it particularly difficult for the officers to obtain any unity or discipline. The Cabal, the foreign allies, and the Mutinies of 1781 and 1783 are treated in full, and the difficulties of disbandment are indicated.

THE CIVIL SERVICE AND THE PATRONAGE.

By CARL RUSSELL FISH, Ph.D., Professor of American History in the University of Wisconsin. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. XI. 8vo. Cloth. xii + 280 pages. $2.00.

This volume gives the history of the civil service from its establishment to the present day, dwelling particularly on the aspect of patronage with regard to public offices. The development of policy and practice in the relationship of civil service and patronage is fully treated, with a sketch of the distinctive policy of each administration.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF FREEDOM OF THE PRESS IN MASSACHUSETTS.

By CLYDE AUGUSTUS DUNIWAY, Ph.D., President of the University of Wyoming. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. XII. 8vo. Cloth. xvi + 202 pages. $1.50.

The important question of the rise and influence of our free press has never before been so fully treated. The paucity of published material, and the vicissitudes of censorship and libel legislation, have rendered the task a difficult one, but one that is especially illuminating to a student of the history of the American press from its establishment in Cambridge in 1639 to the final achievement of freedom in 1827.

THE SEIGNIORIAL SYSTEM IN CANADA: A STUDY IN FRENCH COLONIAL POLICY.

By WILLIAM BENNETT MUNRO, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor of Municipal Government in Harvard University. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. XIII. 8vo. Cloth. xiv + 296 pages. $2.00.

The history of French colonial government is a subject which since de Tocqueville has awaited proper treatment. "On its study," said that first great theorist on American institutions, "depends an understanding of the central government of the Grand Monarque, to whom in large measure the colonial system was due." In Canada feudalism lingered later than anywhere else, modified, to be sure, to meet conditions, contending with the more democratic English system of land-tenure and administration, and finally succumbing to modern evolution in 1854.

THE FRANKPLEDGE SYSTEM.

By WILLIAM ALFRED MORRIS, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of English History in the University of California. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. XIV. 8vo. Cloth. xvi + 194 pages. $1.50.

"No more highly centralized and thoroughgoing scheme of suretyship to secure order was ever devised on European soil than that which existed in mediaeval England under the name of frank-pledge." This neglected system of compulsory, collective bail in Anglo-Norman times is found to have been a necessary step in the development of English self-government, stimulating local coöperation and leading to both the representative system and a free judicial organization.

THE PUBLIC LIFE OF JOSEPH DUDLEY: A STUDY OF THE COLONIAL POLICY OF THE STUARTS IN NEW ENGLAND, 1660-1715.

By EVERETT KIMBALL, Ph.D., Professor of History in Smith College. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. XV. 8vo. Cloth. viii + 239 pages. $2.00.

Dudley's career as colonial Governor of Massachusetts was longer than that of any other royal official in the colonies, and provides an admirable point of contact and comparison with the governance of other colonies. Dudley's personality, ambition, and administration of colonial relations have formed the subject of much dispute, but have never before been set forth so logically and clearly.

MÉMOIRE DE MARIE CAROLINE, REINE DE NAPLES, INTITULÉ DE LA RÉVOLUTION DU ROYAUME DE SICILE PAR UN TÉMOIN OCULAIRE.

Publié pour la première fois, avec Introduction, Notes critiques, et deux Fac-similés, par ROBERT MATTESON JOHNSTON, A.M., Professeur Adjoint à l'Université Harvard. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. XVI. 8vo. Cloth. xxviii + 340 pages. $2.00.

The Mémoire de Marie Caroline (Broadside XAA 19, 20 in the general catalogue of MSS. of the National Library of Naples) is the tale of a political duel between the Queen of Naples and Lord William Bentinck. The document is of value in the light it sheds on the secret negotiations between Marie Caroline and France, from the time of the Treaty of Schönbrunn, October 14, 1809, up to the month of February, 1812. That there had been such negotiations was always denied by the queen, but it is now established that Marie Caroline was in secret correspondence with Murat and Napoleon.

THE BARRINGTON-BERNARD CORRESPONDENCE.

Edited by EDWARD CHANNING, Ph.D., McLean Professor of Ancient and Modern History in Harvard University. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. XVII. 8vo. Cloth. xxiv + 306 pages. $2.00.

These letters from Sir Francis Bernard to his political backer in England, with Lord Barrington's replies, cover ten of the most interesting and important years in the history of Massachusetts,—including the Stamp Act and "Liberty" episodes. They are unofficial and intimate (Lord Barrington was Bernard's wife's cousin), and give us the point of view of two important officials of that day. Their perusal will go far toward explaining to the reader one of the reasons for colonial unrest in the years preceding the American Revolution. An appendix contains other original papers throwing light on the same general theme.

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE OTTOMAN EMPIRE IN THE TIME OF SULEIMAN THE MAGNIFICENT.

By ALBERT HOWE LYBYER, Ph.D., Associate Professor of History in the University of Illinois. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. XVIII. 8vo. Cloth. x + 349 pages. $2.00.

A significant study of the organization of the Ottoman Turks in the period of their greatest power and prestige. The author describes the vast energies and activities, the magnificent undertakings and achievements, that characterized the Constantinople of the sixteenth century, in the effort to reveal the secrets of Ottoman success. The volume has five appendices, bibliography, and glossary of Turkish words.

"This monograph, which was awarded the Toppan prize, is a noteworthy contribution to our knowledge of Turkish government. The introduction gives a brief but careful account of the origins of what the author calls 'on the whole a durable and useful empire,' . . . and assigns to the Ottoman Turks the great task of unifying Mediterranean lands. . . . No future historian of Turkey can fail to take into account this analysis nor these terms." — American Historical Review.

"Professor Lybyer has given us in this book an extraordinarily interesting and vivid account of the times, and has fortified his statements in every case by a veritable mass of documentary evidence." — New York Times.

THE GRANGER MOVEMENT IN THE UNITED STATES.

A Study of Agricultural Organization and Its Political, Economic, and Social Manifestations, 1870-1880. By SOLON JUSTUS BUCK, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of American History in the University of Minnesota and Secretary of the Minnesota Historical Society. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. XIX. 8vo. Cloth. xii + 384 pages. $2.00.

The "Granger Movement" embraces the whole wave of agricultural class consciousness that grew out of the acute discontent prevalent in the fifteen years following the Civil War, and developed into nation-wide organization for protection and coöperation under the name of the Order of Patrons of Husbandry or the Grange. The political aspects of the movement are treated in an analysis of the Independent parties which grew out of it, and its influence upon Populism and the Progressive Party of the present day. Of particular present-day interest is the story of the beginning of railroad regulation in the United States, herein first critically treated, and the account of the efforts of the farmers to render themselves independent of middlemen by the establishment of co-operative enterprises. An elaborate critical bibliography (including Granger newspapers) and a full analytical index complete the book.

"A very exhaustive and most excellent history of an important period of our economic and political history." — The Grange Review.

BURGAGE TENURE IN MEDIAEVAL ENGLAND.

By MORLEY DE WOLF HEMMEON, Ph.D., formerly Austin Teaching Fellow in History in Harvard University. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. XX. 8vo. Cloth. x + 234 pages. $2.00.

In view of its importance as presenting economic and legal conditions of landholding similar to those of modern days, the tenure of the English mediaeval boroughs seems worthy of consideration as a subject in itself; but the present volume is the first to treat the topic in this way. Dr. Hemmeon avoids speculation as to the origin of urban tenure, dealing only with the facts as found. He treats first of the connection between burgage and feudal tenures as regards the extent to which the former was affected by the incidents of the latter. The purely economic phases, such as the amounts and incidence of the original or quit-rents, and the rents and prices of realty in boroughs, are followed by the most important features of the tenure — its modern aspect, in regard to freedom of sale and devise. At the close, conclusions are drawn, and a comparison is made with urban tenure in parts of France, in the Netherlands, and especially in Germany. In the latter country the tenure most closely resembled the English burgage tenure, and as it has never been directly treated before, an especial appendix is devoted to it.

WRAXALL'S ABRIDGMENT OF THE NEW YORK INDIAN RECORDS, 1678-1751.

Edited by CHARLES HOWARD McILWAIN, Ph.D., Professor of History in Harvard University. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. XXI. 8vo. Cloth. cxviii + 251 pages. $2.00.

Since the burning of the New York State Library at Albany, Professor McIlwain's transcription of the Indian Records of New York State has been the only one in existence. The present volume makes these records generally accessible and includes a comprehensive introduction setting forth the character of the documents and their relation to the history of the eighteenth century.

ENGLISH FIELD SYSTEMS.

By HOWARD LEVI GRAY, Ph.D., Professor of History in Bryn Mawr College. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. XXII. 8vo. Cloth. 568 pages, with maps. $2.75.

The author first examines the structure of open-field townships throughout England and questions the current assumption that the two- and three-field system was once generally prevalent. Apart from the light it sheds on Anglo-Saxon society, the book is concerned with the transformations undergone by the open field. Since these look uniformly in the direction of improved tillage, it forms also a contribution to the history of English agriculture; the author contends that progress in this branch of national economy was considerable even before the enclosure of the open fields. Conclusions are illustrated and supported by several maps and appendices.

THE SECOND PARTITION OF POLAND: A STUDY IN DIPLOMATIC HISTORY.

By ROBERT HOWARD LORD, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of History in Harvard University. Harvard Historical Studies, Vol. XXIII. 8vo. Cloth. 618 pages. $2.25. (See page 7.)

PUBLICATIONS OF THE BUREAU OF RESEARCH IN MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT

MUNICIPAL CHARTERS: A DISCUSSION OF THE ESSENTIALS OF A CITY CHARTER WITH FORMS OR MODELS FOR ADOPTION.

By NATHAN MATTHEWS, LL.B., LL.D., Mayor of Boston, 1891 to 1895, and Lecturer on Municipal Government in Harvard University. 8vo. Law buckram. 210 pages. $2.00.

The author's object has been to present a practical handbook of municipal charter-making rather than to engage in a discussion of political theory. Believing that a large percentage of the wrongs done the people might have been avoided if correct methods of administration had been compelled by law, the author has brought to bear his long experience and study, in discussing political and business provisions, and in drafting specimen charters, with notes, of what he calls the Responsible Executive Type and the Commission Type. The book is a constructive and hopeful review of the phases of municipal government native to the American people.

A BIBLIOGRAPHY OF MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

By WILLIAM BENNETT MUNRO, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor of Municipal Government in Harvard University. Second Edition. 8vo. Cloth. 472 pages. $2.50. (See page 5.)

THE RELIGIOUS HISTORY OF NEW ENGLAND.

By J. W. PLATNER, G. E. HORR, GEORGE HODGES, W. W. FENN, W. E. HUNTINGTON, R. M. JONES, J. C. ADAMS, and W. L. WORCESTER. In press. (See page 15.)

THE HISTORY OF THE GRAIN TRADE IN FRANCE, 1400-1710.

By ABBOTT PAYSON USHER, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Economics in Cornell University. Harvard Economic Studies, Vol. IX. 8vo. Cloth. 405 pages. $2.00. (See page 35.)

ECONOMICS*ESSAYS IN SOCIAL JUSTICE.

By THOMAS NIXON CARVER, Ph.D., LL.D., David A. Wells Professor of Political Economy in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. viii + 429 pages. $2.00.

An attempt to define the principles of human conflict and social justice from the point of view of economic competition. It seeks to answer two questions, What ought the State to do with respect to the various conflicts in human interest? and How ought it to do it? by reference to external, economic fact, rather than by internal criterions, such as the "sentimental morality" that has hitherto influenced thought. The ultimate basis of all social conflict, Professor Carver finds, is scarcity of some commodity or other. Hence, economic struggle is the highest and most representative clash among the interests of men; and it is also capable, under a democratic or liberalistic régime, of providing the best conditions for fostering successful initiative—the rarest and most val-able of human goods. The duty and problem of society today is to secure this and to limit at the same time the directions in which it can be exercised, preserving only those which are productive and serviceable to society as a whole.

PROBLEMS IN THE PRINCIPLES OF ACCOUNTING.

By WILLIAM MORSE COLE, A.M., Associate Professor of Accounting in Harvard University. Second Impression. 8vo. Cloth. vi + 102 pages. 85 cents.

The aim in these problems is not so much to afford the facility resulting from mechanical practice, as to provide material on which the student may cultivate the power and the habit of seeing straight, of seeing deeply, and of seeing whole. Except in the bookkeeping problems, the exercises are intended to demand of the student careful observation (to show him what the figures mean), or the application of some analytical power (to tell him what lies below the surface), or sense of relationship (to indicate to him how present figures are tied up with other figures). These problems have been designed for use with the author's "Accounts: Their Construction and Interpretation."

THE TRUST PROBLEM.

By EDWARD DANA DURAND, Ph.D., Professor of Statistics in the University of Minnesota, and recently Director of the United States Census. 8vo. Cloth. 145 pages. $1.00.

An amplification of a series of lectures delivered in 1914 at Harvard University. The author treats of The Necessity of Prohibition or Regulation; The Possibility of Preventing Combination; The Alleged Economies and Advantages of Combination, discussing the extent to which the process of economizing through enlargement and combination can be carried, and the distinction between magnitude, pure and simple, and monopolistic control. An appendix presents the texts of recent Federal Acts dealing with this subject.

LECTURES ON THE INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION.

By EDWIN FRANCIS GAY, Ph.D., Professor of Economics and Dean of the Graduate School of Business Administration in Harvard University. In preparation.

AN APPROACH TO BUSINESS PROBLEMS.

By ARCH WILKINSON SHAW, A.M., Lecturer on Business Policy in Harvard University, and Editor of "System." 8vo. Cloth. In press. (See page 6.)

SOME PROBLEMS IN MARKET DISTRIBUTION.

By ARCH WILKINSON SHAW, A.M., Lecturer on Business Policy in Harvard University, and Editor of "System." Second Impression. 16mo. Cloth. 119 pages. $1.00. (See page 6.)

BANKING REFORM IN THE UNITED STATES.

A Series of Proposals, including a Central Bank of Limited Scope. By OLIVER MITCHELL WENTWORTH SPRAGUE, Ph.D., Edmund Cogswell Converse Professor of Banking and Finance in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 176 pages. $1.00.

This volume contains in a revised form the following articles on banking reform by Professor Sprague which have appeared in The Quarterly Journal of Economics: Criticism of Plans for a Central Bank of the European Type, Proposals for Strengthening the Existing Banks, A Central Bank of Limited Scope.

STATE PAPERS AND SPEECHES ON THE TARIFF.

With an Introduction by FRANK WILLIAM TAUSSIG, Ph.D., LL.B., Litt.D., Henry Lee Professor of Economics in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. viii + 385 pages. $1.00.

Hamilton's Report on Manufacturers, Gallatin's Memorial of the Free Trade Convention, Walker's Treasury Report of 1845, Clay's and Webster's Speeches on the Tariff of 1824 are here reprinted to illustrate the mode in which the tariff problem has been approached from time to time. The book affords a stimulating introduction to a consideration of the principles of international trade and of customs policy.

HARVARD BUSINESS STUDIES*SCIENTIFIC MANAGEMENT.

Edited by CLARENCE BERTRAND THOMPSON, LL.B., A.M., Lecturer on Manufacturing in Harvard University. Harvard Business Studies, Vol. I. Second Impression. 8vo. Cloth. xii + 878 pages, with charts and diagrams. $4.00.

Much has been printed about Scientific Management that is neither reliable nor illuminating. Nevertheless, the method originated by Mr. Taylor has been increasingly demonstrating its importance, while comparatively little has been written to distinguish it from other systems. The original group gathered by Mr. Taylor has been busier in perfecting different applications of the system than in writing of it. The purpose of the present volume is to bring together the most significant articles on the subject in the permanent form they deserve, and in such a way as to provide ready reference for managers, students of business, or libraries.

HARVARD ECONOMIC STUDIES.

Published under the direction of the Department of Economics. The purpose of the Harvard Economic Studies is to place before the public the results of special investigations carried on from time to time by advanced students and instructors in the Department of Economics of Harvard University. Only such monographs will be published as embody results of permanent value, being genuine contributions to the sum of human knowledge.

THE ENGLISH PATENTS OF MONOPOLY.

By WILLIAM HYDE PRICE, Ph.D., Professor of Economics in the University of Tokyo, Japan. Harvard Economic Studies, Vol. I. 8vo. Cloth. xii + 261 pages. $1.50.

Prepared in England while the author held a travelling fellowship from Harvard University and had access not only to the usual archives but also to manuscript notes and the Registers of the Privy Council Office, this volume deals largely with those internal monopolies which were devoted under royal patronage to encourage new or weak domestic industries. Part I is devoted to an aspect of the transition from mercantilism to protectionism, and Part II deals with infant industries under Elizabeth and the Stuarts.

"This volume sets an exceedingly high standard of scholarly excellence." — Journal of Political Economy.

THE LODGING-HOUSE PROBLEM IN BOSTON.

By ALBERT BENEDICT WOLFE, Ph.D., Professor of Economics and Sociology in the University of Texas. Harvard Economic Studies, Vol. II. 8vo. Cloth. 200 pages. $1.50.

The result of two years of special investigation, during the time that the author held the South End House Fellowship, is recorded in this volume. It gives the most complete description ever published of a typical lodging-house district in the city which has the largest percentage of lodging-house population in the world.

"Materials and methods of investigation of highest value . . . treated with extreme care and intelligence." — American Journal of Sociology.

"Of much more than local interest." — The Churchman.

THE STANNARIES: A STUDY OF THE ENGLISH TIN MINER.

By GEORGE RANDALL LEWIS, Ph.D., late Austin Teaching Fellow in Economics in Harvard University. Harvard Economic Studies, Vol. III. 8vo. Cloth. xviii + 299 pages. $1.50.

The materials for this study of English tin-mining from the twelfth to the eighteenth centuries were collected during a two years' residence in England on a travelling fellowship from Harvard University. No previous investigator has utilized so fully the manuscript material of the English archives in the British Museum, the Record Office, and the documents of the Duchy of Cornwall, concerning one of the oldest, most interesting, and in former times most important of English industries.

"His book as a whole must for a long time to come be ranked as the standard work of reference in its field. The bibliography is especially commendable." — The Nation.

RAILROAD REORGANIZATION.

By STUART DAGGETT, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Railway Economics in the University of California. Harvard Economic Studies, Vol. IV. Second Impression. 8vo. Cloth. x + 404 pages. $2.00.

The basis of this work is an examination of the financial history of the six largest railroads which failed between 1893 and 1898, and of one road, the Rock Island, which was reorganized in 1902. In all, the author has gone in detail into eighteen reorganizations, and has considered no less than forty-two reorganization plans. The most important development in reorganization practice, he finds, has been the increasing use of new securities bearing a fixed rate of interest with new securities bearing a conditional rate of interest; a use which may make the losses of security-holders merely temporary, and yet safeguard the interests of the corporation.

"The work should be of great aid to the investor who is involved in any of the current reorganizations, as well as an important source of materials for class-room study." — The Journal of Political Economy.

WOOL-GROWING AND THE TARIFF.

By CHESTER WHITNEY WRIGHT, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Political Economy in the University of Chicago. Harvard Economic Studies, Vol. V. 8vo. Cloth. xiv + 362 pages, with charts. $2.00.

The history of wool-growing and manufacture in the United States is traced from colonial times to 1907, with relation to the influence of tariff legislation. The advent of the merino sheep is described, the period of the supremacy of the East, the rise of the Middle West (1840-60), the extraordinary diversion from the normal course of development caused by the war, the rise of the far West (1870-90), and, finally, the cessation of advance in wool-growing during the last twenty years. An appendix contains valuable statistical tables and a series of illustrative charts.

"The monograph is a model for works of this kind, inasmuch as, although the author makes his own deduction from the facts presented, he has presented all the facts in the case and thus enables others to draw opposite conclusions — if they can. Nothing is suppressed." — American Historical Review.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF TELEPHONES ON THE CONTINENT OF EUROPE.

By ARTHUR NORMAN HOLCOMBE, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Government in Harvard University. Harvard Economic Studies, Vol. VI. 8vo. Cloth. xx + 482 pages. $2.00.

The author has drawn his information not only from the most trustworthy documentary sources, but also from personal interviews with responsible officials. In the body of the book he has let the facts speak for themselves; in the conclusion he has attempted to interpret European experience for the American reader, and states in unmistakable terms his judgment concerning the true value of public ownership as a form of industrial organization in the telephone business.

"A careful, exhaustive, and impartial book. It will be a necessary reference book wherever the problems of telephone franchises, telephone consolidation, telephone rates, telephone service, and public regulation are acute." — American Political Science Review.

THE HISTORY OF THE BRITISH POST OFFICE.

By JOSEPH CLARENCE HEMMEON, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Economics in McGill University. Harvard Economic Studies, Vol. VII. 8vo. Cloth. xii + 261 pages. $2.00.

A general survey of the development of the British Post Office from its infancy to the present time is presented in the first four chapters of this volume. The remaining chapters are concerned with a more detailed description of the different functions and activities which accompanied and largely constituted its development. These latter chapters include such subjects as Sailing Packets and Foreign Connections, Rates and Finance, The Telegraph and Telephone Systems, The Question of Monopoly, and the Relations of the Post Office with the Telephone Companies.

"Those who seek to study the economic problems of the post office in the light of history can hardly fail to find Mr. Hemmeon's arrangement most satisfactory. There is just enough preliminary history to give the remaining chapters the proper setting." — American Economic Review.

THE COTTON MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY OF THE UNITED STATES.

By MELVIN THOMAS COPELAND, Ph.D., Instructor in Marketing in Harvard University. Harvard Economic Studies, Vol. VIII. 8vo. Cloth. xii + 415 pages. $2.00.

The aim of this study is to set forth the position of the American cotton manufacturing industry, including the spinning, weaving, finishing, and knitting branches. In tracing the history of the industry particular emphasis is laid on the period since the Civil War. The advantages of Northern and Southern mills are compared, the progress in technique and the adaptation to American conditions are followed, and labor conditions are discussed. The book also includes a comparison, in natural advantages, equipment, labor cost, and organization, of the industry in Europe and in America. The author has made an exhaustive search through published materials, and has obtained first-hand information from numerous manufacturers, business men, and labor leaders in America, England, Germany, France, and Switzerland.

"Dr. Copeland has produced the most thorough, comprehensive, and consequently the most useful treatise in existence, upon his chosen subject. . . . It is eminently fair in its statements, and generally sound in its conclusions. In scope it covers the whole subject. . . . Such a book should be at the hand of every cotton-mill treasurer." — American Economic Review.

"Of value to the thoughtful and progressive manufacturer." — Cotton and Finance.

THE HISTORY OF THE GRAIN TRADE IN FRANCE, 1400-1710.

By ABBOTT PAYSON USHER, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Economics in Cornell University. Harvard Economic Studies, Vol. IX. 8vo. Cloth. xvi + 405 pages. $2.00.

A significant study of the first steps in the evolution of trade from limited local markets to a wholesale marketing of the world's staple commodities. The story of the French grain trade during the period treated shows a growth of wholesale market organization, with an accompanying development of national and local policies in regulation of this trade that makes it an illuminating chapter in the larger history of European commerce and trade. The frequent disorders and suffering entailed by defective modes of marketing during the period point conclusively to the necessity of the great speculative markets of today, and illustrate vividly the daily life, the grapple with famine, and the importance of state interference in an earlier period. The study is based largely on hitherto unutilized manuscript sources.

"Thorough and scholarly, . . . based on minute and extensive research." . . . — American Historical Review.

CORPORATE PROMOTIONS AND REORGANIZATIONS.

By ARTHUR STONE DEWING, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Political Economy in Yale University. Harvard Economic Studies, Vol. X. Second Impression. 8vo. Cloth. x + 615 pages, with charts and tables. $2.50.

These studies are based on the supposition that no adequate generalizations can be made concerning the failures of "big business" without study of a few concrete cases. Hence the author gives detailed accounts of the promotion, failure, and successive reorganization of twelve or more industrial combinations or "trusts," including the Westinghouse Company, the National Salt

Company, the National Cordage Company, and the United States Shipbuilding Company. This occupies the first two-thirds of the book. In the last part certain conclusions are drawn from the concrete cases previously described — the causes of failure, the types of expedients adopted to relieve a crisis, etc. Although the book is largely a study in finance, it treats of many economic and legal aspects of the so-called "trust problem," and discusses the probable results of governmental regulation.

"This material . . . is invaluable as a basis of legislation on the trust question." — American Review of Reviews.

THE ANTHRACITE COAL COMBINATION IN THE UNITED STATES, WITH SOME ACCOUNT OF THE EARLY DEVELOPMENT OF THE ANTHRACITE INDUSTRY.

By ELIOT JONES, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Economics in the State University of Iowa. Harvard Economic Studies, Vol. XI. 8vo. Cloth. 261 pages. $1.50.

Beginning with a history of the origin and growth of the anthracite coal industry, the author traces in considerable detail the development of the combination under railroad control, and describes the attempts which the Government has made to dissolve its hold on practically the entire coal area of the country. A wide range of problems is thus suggested, ranging from the rights of control by public carriers to the disposition of natural resources, as well as the usual complexities of the trust problem.

"Scholarly, well constructed, and supplied with abundant illustrative material." — The Nation, New York.

SOME ASPECTS OF THE TARIFF QUESTION.

By FRANK WILLIAM TAUSSIG, Ph.D., LL.B., Litt.D., Henry Lee Professor of Economics in Harvard University. Harvard Economic Studies, Vol. XII. 8vo. Cloth. x + 374 pages, with charts. $2.00.

Some questions of principle in the tariff controversy are here considered by an author who has long been recognized as an authority on the history of the American tariff. The discussion of such phases as the relation of duties, imports, and prices, protection to young industries, and the theory of comparative cost or comparative effectiveness, is followed by an examination of industries whose history and present condition illustrate these principles.

The bulk of the volume is devoted, therefore, to the sugar, iron, steel, and textile manufactures — cotton, woolen, silk. The book is supplementary to the author's well-known Tariff History of the United States.

"Business men and students of economics alike will do well to read the work." — American Industries.

THE EVOLUTION OF THE ENGLISH CORN MARKET, FROM THE TWELFTH TO THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY.

By NORMAN SCOTT BRIEN GRAS, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of History in Clark College. Harvard Economic Studies, Vol. XIII. 8vo. Cloth. 498 pages, with charts. $2.50.

More than a mere history of the English corn trade has been attempted in this book: it is primarily an investigation of the development of the market area, tracing it from the manorial marketing system through the local territorial to the metropolitan market area. This approach by way of market evolution, based as it is on statistical and other evidence from the English Archives, throws new light upon the course of economic development. The appendices add more valuable material, especially on corn prices.

"Deserves very considerable attention from students of economic history." — The Journal of Political Economy.

EDUCATION*HOW THE FRENCH BOY LEARNS TO WRITE: A STUDY IN THE TEACHING OF THE MOTHER TONGUE.

By ROLLO WALTER BROWN, A.M., Litt.B., Professor of Rhetoric and Composition in Wabash College. 8vo. Cloth. 260 pages. $1.25.

The superiority of the native of France in the art of writing is not confined to masters of literature: it holds also in schools. Believing that there was much to be learned from French methods of teaching composition, the author spent a year investigating the subject in lycées and écoles in different parts of France. He has treated not only the actual courses of study, the French ideals of rhetoric, and the use of foreign languages, but even the characteristics required of the teacher. He closes with a discussion of those features which are most relevant for adoption in America.

"Should be read by every teacher of English who has an adequate conception of the importance of his work." — The Journal of Education.

READINGS IN THE HISTORY OF EDUCATION: MEDIAEVAL UNIVERSITIES.

By ARTHUR ORLO NORTON, S.B., A.M., Professor of the History and Principles of Education in Wellesley College. 12mo. Cloth. 155 pages. 85 cents.

A collection of translations and reprints of documents concerning European universities before the year 1500 A.D., with descriptive and explanatory text. The documents are chosen to illustrate the careers of Abelard and John of Salisbury, the privileges, studies, exercises, and requirements for degrees of the universities, and the scholastic method. A few academic letters of the time are appended.

THE OBERLEHRER: A STUDY OF THE SOCIAL AND PROFESSIONAL EVOLUTION OF THE GERMAN SCHOOLMASTER.

By WILLIAM SETCHEL LEARNED, Ph.D., of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. Harvard Studies in Education, Vol. I. 8vo. Cloth. xiv + 150 pages. $1.25.

In no other country does the secondary teacher command so much honor and influence as in Germany. Yet from the Middle Ages to the last century his history was one of misery and isolation and bondage to the routine of the classics. With the political consolidation of Germany came a demand for a practical and nationalistic program of education and a scholarship directed to benefit all. This and the standardization of schools gave a new profession to the Oberlehrer. This volume is an account of his struggle, through the Standesverein, for influence and social recognition, as one "who can see life steadily and see it whole, whose business it is to catch up the latest achievements of science, art, and religion, and, giving them their place in his whole view, inspire the new generation with his vision."

THE APPOINTMENT OF TEACHERS IN CITIES: A CRITICAL AND CONSTRUCTIVE STUDY.

By FRANK WASHINGTON BALLOU, Ph.D., Director of the Department of Educational Investigation and Measurement in the Boston Public Schools. Harvard Studies in Education, Vol. II. 8vo. Cloth. 202 pages. $1.50.

A descriptive, critical, and constructive study of a most important question in school administration — the selection of teachers. Six per cent of our population are enrolled in the public schools of our cities alone. The present study is of selected cities representing more than half of this enrolment, and is based upon the annual reports of their boards of education, supplemented and confirmed by data from school superintendents. The different methods employed are compared, their origin traced, and criticized in the light of prevailing practice and of general principles of school administration. Graphs and tables, and a descriptive bibliography add to the usefulness of the book.

LAW

LECTURES ON LEGAL HISTORY, AND MISCELLANEOUS
LEGAL ESSAYS.

By JAMES BARR AMES, A.M., LL.B., LL.D., late Dane Professor of Law and Dean of the Faculty of Law in Harvard University. Second Impression. Quarto. Cloth. 552 pages, with portrait. $3.00.

The bulk of the written work of Dean Ames is to be found in this volume, much of it inaccessible elsewhere, and the remainder to be found only in the files of various legal periodicals. Besides the Lectures on Legal History, the book includes miscellaneous essays on legal subjects, and memoirs of Professor Thayer and Dean Langdell. The volume also contains a joint memoir of Dean Ames by a number of his friends and colleagues, and a Table of Cases and of Authorities quoted. The experience of Dean Ames in developing the case-system of teaching law, and his ability, both in philosophic interpretation and in the application of a vast collection of actual precedents, give unusual value to his elucidation of legal principles.

BARTOLUS ON THE CONFLICT OF LAWS.

Translated into English by JOSEPH HENRY BEALE, A.M., LL.B., LL.D., Royall Professor of Law in Harvard University. 8vo. Half cloth. 86 pages. $1.00.

Bartolus of Sassoferato, Professor of Civil Law at Perugia in the fourteenth century, is the most imposing figure among the lawyers of the Middle Ages. To him is ascribed the first and standard statement of the doctrines of the Conflict of Laws, and although his work professes to be based throughout on previous authority, his text is the starting point and the cited authority for all subsequent work on the subject for five hundred years. This is the first translation into English of his Commentary on the Code of Justinian.

A TREATISE ON CONFLICT OF LAWS.

By JOSEPH HENRY BEALE, A.M., LL.B., LL.D., Royall Professor of Law in Harvard University. Vol. I, Part I. 8vo. Paper. lxxx + 189 pages. $1.10. (See page 9.)

THE YEAR BOOKS OF RICHARD II.

12 Richard II, A.D. 1388-1389. Edited under the auspices of the Ames Foundation by GEORGE FEIRHELLER DEISER, LL.B., of the Philadelphia Bar, Librarian of the Hirst Free Law Library. Quarto. Cloth. xxxi + 240 pages, with four facsimiles. $5.00.

This book is the first step toward filling the only gap in the English Common Law Reports. Every other reign from the time of Henry III to the present date is more or less completely reported. The entire reign of Richard II stood unreported after a lapse of nearly six hundred years. The only information extant on the litigation of the reign of Richard II consists of the fragmentary accounts given in the Abridgements of Fitzherbert, Brooke, and Statham. The majority of the manuscripts from which these reports are taken have apparently never been used, and the cases for the twelfth year very nearly double the cases for the corresponding period found in any or all of the Abridgements.

The arrangement followed is similar to that adopted by the late Professor Maitland, Mr. Pike, and Mr. Horwood,—viz., the French text on one side of the page and the corresponding translation opposite, together with such notes from the record as can be supplied.

THE ENFORCEMENT OF DECREES IN EQUITY.

By CHARLES ANDREWS HUSTON, S.J.D., J.D., Professor of Law in Leland Stanford Jr. University, and in 1912-13 Research Scholar in the Harvard Law School. Harvard Studies in Jurisprudence, Vol. I. 8vo. Cloth. xxi + 189 pages. $1.25.

This essay is written primarily to advocate an enlargement of the equity powers of American courts which will enable them to give a real effect to their decrees; for example, to transfer titles directly instead of by ordering a litigant to make the transfer. Such power has existed in more or less perfect form in most of the states of the Union. In some states, however, the power is lacking and in others incompletely realized. The subject is treated in its wider juristic aspects, as a phase of the tendency to enlarge the remedial powers of our courts and as a part of the movement which has gradually been attenuating the functions of a trustee or other holder of legal title to property. Tracing first the state of Anglo-American Law, and the development of the subject in Roman Law, the author proceeds to consider its extension in equitable procedure in rem, and of equitable interests into real interests.

A BRIEF SURVEY OF EQUITY JURISDICTION.

By CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS LANGDELL, A.M., LL.B., LL.D., late Dean of the Harvard Law School. Second Edition, enlarged. Quarto. Buckram. 303 pages. $4.00.

A collection of seventeen articles published in the Harvard Law Review. The book includes an Index and Table of Cases.

READINGS IN ROMAN LAW, AND THE CIVIL LAW AND MODERN CODES AS DEVELOPMENTS THEREOF.

Compiled, edited, and translated by ROSCOE POUND, Ph.D., LL.M., LL.D., Carter Professor of General Jurisprudence in Harvard University. Second Edition. In press.

An introduction to Comparative Law, by means of extracts from Roman Law, particularly as found in the Digest, and from modern codes and jurists. A more compendious text-book than any in existence has been needed, which should unite translations of significant passages in Roman Law with references to modern works, some of them inaccessible in English. This affords a basis for class discussion of concrete cases, by tracing the development of modern doctrines and comparing the Roman and modern solutions with those of our own law.

COMMENTARY TO THE GERMANIC LAWS AND MEDIAEVAL DOCUMENTS.

By LEO WIENER, Professor of the Slavic Languages and Literatures in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. lxi + 224 pages. $3.25. (See page 12.)

CASE-BOOKS

The case-system of teaching law, inaugurated by C. C. Langdell, Dean of the Harvard Law School, and furthered even more by the effective teaching of his successor in that position, the late James Barr Ames, has now been recognized as the most successful method of making a student trace the significance and history of a principle through the line of authorities by which it was established and developed. Not only are many of the leading law schools of the country using these books as regular text-books, but practitioners also find in them a convenient grouping of the most important historical precedents.

WILLIBALD: THE LIFE OF SAINT BONIFACE.

Translated into English for the first time, with Introduction and Notes, by GEORGE WASHINGTON ROBINSON, A.B., Secretary of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 114 pages. $1.15. (See page 8.)

GREEK LEXICON OF THE ROMAN AND BYZANTINE PERIODS.
(FROM B.C. 146 TO A.D. 1100.)

By EVANGELINUS APOSTOLIDES SOPHOCLES, A.M., LL.D., Professor of Ancient, Byzantine, and Modern Greek in Harvard University from 1860 to 1883. Third Edition. Quarto. Library buckram. xiv + 1188 pages. $10.00.

The reprinting of this valuable lexicon, which was first published in 1870, makes available again one of the monuments of American scholarship. It is prefixed by an introduction which treats clearly and vividly the dialects, periods, and professional uses of the Greek tongue, and the foreign elements that went into the making of it. The introduction contains also a chronological list of all the known authors of the epoch, and a concise grammar and prosody, with samples of the prose style of Byzantine writers.

THE GEORGICS AND ECLOGUES OF VIRGIL.

Translated by the late THEODORE CHICKERING WILLIAMS, S.T.B., Litt.D., with an Introduction by GEORGE HERBERT PALMER, Alford Professor of Natural Religion, Moral Philosophy, and Civil Polity, Emeritus, in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 166 pages. $1.00. (See page 10.)

HARVARD STUDIES IN CLASSICAL PHILOLOGY.

Vols. I-XXVII. Published by a fund subscribed by the Class of 1856, and edited by a Committee of the Classical Instructors of Harvard University. Per vol., $1.50. Per set, $26.00. (For Vol. XXVII, see page 11.)

A complete list of the contents of the twenty-seven volumes in the series will be sent on application.

SELECTIONS FROM LATIN POETS, WITH BRIEF NOTES.

8vo. Boards. 155 pages. 75 cents.

This book is intended for Freshmen in colleges, and was prepared by Instructors of Freshmen in Harvard College, Drs. Morgan, Howard, Manning, and Mather.

SEMITIC*HARVARD SEMITIC SERIES

Edited by JAMES RICHARD JEWETT, Ph.D., Professor of Arabic, DAVID GORDON LYON, Ph.D., D.D., Hancock Professor of Hebrew and Curator of the Semitic Museum, and GEORGE FOOT MOORE, A.M., D.D., LL.D., Frothingham Professor of the History of Religion in Harvard University. The Semitic Series will consist of occasional volumes in the field of Semitic exploration, philology, literature, history, and religion.

THE HARVARD EXPEDITION TO SAMARIA.

By GEORGE ANDREW REISNER, Ph.D., Director of the Palestinian Expedition. Harvard Semitic Series, Vol. I and II. Quarto. Cloth. In preparation.

The expedition, under the auspices of the Harvard Semitic Museum, which furnished the material for these volumes, was undertaken in 1908 through the generosity of Mr. Jacob H. Schiff. Samaria, or Sebaste, as it has been called since it was rebuilt by Herod the Great, is of importance as showing on one site the remains of four epochs of building, corresponding to the Israelite, Babylonian, Greek, and Roman occupations. Of the last period the findings have been naturally the most extensive, including the whole fortified city, with its Temple of Augustus, founded by Herod the Great. But the most interesting architectural discovery has been that of the palace of Omri and Ahab, the first Hebrew palace ever excavated, of which a full report and illustrations will be given. About a hundred ostraca of the age of Ahab were also found, giving the earliest known inscriptions in Hebrew.

SUMERIAN TABLETS IN THE HARVARD SEMITIC MUSEUM.
By MARY INDA HUSSEY, Ph.D. Harvard Semitic Series, Vol. III, Part I. Quarto. Boards. 36 pages + 81 plates. $5.00. Part II is in press.

While Sumerian is not a Semitic tongue, its relations to Babylonian and Assyrian are so intimate that the inclusion of a Sumerian volume in a Semitic series will be considered as a matter of course by workers in this field. This volume contains reproductions of the cuneiform tablets, chiefly from the reigns of the Sumerian rulers Lugalanda and Urukagina of Lagash, acquired by the Harvard Semitic Museum in 1903 and 1904. Copied with Introduction and Index of Names and Persons. The cost of publication has been met by the generosity of Mr. Jacob H. Schiff, founder of the Semitic Museum.

THE MARY CARLETON NARRATIVES, 1663-1673: A MISSING CHAPTER IN THE HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH NOVEL.

By ERNEST BERNBAUM, Ph.D., Instructor in English in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 106 pages. $1.00.

The career of the once famous adventuress, Mary Carleton, is not without lively human interest in itself; but the especial value of this study lies in its disclosure that a narrative concerning her which for two hundred and fifty years has successfully masqueraded as a biography is really a novel. The ingenious devices sustaining the imposture are shown to be the outgrowth of seventeenth century journalism, and to anticipate the methods of Daniel Defoe.

CHAUCER AND HIS POETRY.

By GEORGE LYMAN KITTREDGE, LL.D., Litt.D., Professor of English in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 230 pages. $1.25.

An interpretation of Chaucer the humanist, — the author most representative of his own age, and therefore significant to all ages. Each of his chief poetical works is treated with a view to its significance as a work of art and as a study of human nature. The interest in Chaucer is greater now, perhaps, than ever before, and it is enhanced by the parallelism which Professor Kittredge points out between the transitional age in which he lived and our own. To these lectures he has brought the full maturity of his scholarship and a light touch of playful humor that many will appreciate.

COMPARATIVE LITERATURE

THE SPIRITUAL MESSAGE OF DANTE.

By the Rt. Rev. WILLIAM BOYD CARPENTER, D.D., D.C.L., D.Litt., LL.D., K.C.V.O., Canon of Westminster and late Bishop of Ripon. The William Belden Noble Lectures in Harvard University for 1912-13. With reproductions of ancient portraits of Dante, and the illustrations in Lord Vernon's Inferno. 8vo. Cloth. xii + 250 pages. $1.50.

An analysis of the Divina Commedia as the drama of the soul. "It has its architecture," says Canon Boyd Carpenter, "and in it the style of the period may be traced; its decorations and embellishments excite the attention of various experts. . . . But voices which are heard within are voices of the soul; whatever may be the character of its columns and buttresses, its windows and its arches, the whole building is a place of worship. In it we may hear the cry of the soul which is striving to find itself, to express itself, and to reach at last the great central soul of love in which it can lose itself." The drama of Dante's own life as we study it from without is followed by an interpretation of the drama within as depicted in the Inferno, the Purgatorio, and the victory of love in the Paradiso.

THE ARAMAIC SOURCE OF ACTS 1-15.

By CHARLES CUTLER TORREY, D.D., Professor of the Semitic Languages in Yale University. Harvard Studies in Theology, Vol. I. In press. (See page 15.)

THE SUPERNATURAL IN TRAGEDY.

By CHARLES EDWARD WHITMORE, Ph.D., Instructor in English in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth: 370 pages. $1.75. (See page 10.)

HARVARD STUDIES IN COMPARATIVE LITERATURE

Founded and edited by WILLIAM HENRY SCHOFIELD, Ph.D., Professor of Comparative Literature in Harvard University.

THREE PHILOSOPHICAL POETS.

By GEORGE SANTAYANA, Ph.D., Litt.D., sometime Professor of Philosophy in Harvard University. Harvard Studies in Comparative Literature, Vol. I. Second Impression. 12mo. Cloth. viii + 215 pages. $2.25.

An appreciative study of Lucretius, Dante, and Goethe. "Each is typical," says the author in the Introduction, "of an age. Taken together they sum up all European philosophy. . . ."

"The whole essay is a justification of the saying that true criticism of literature is itself creative literature." — J. B. Fletcher, in The Journal of Philosophy, Psychology, and Scientific Method.

"A contribution to criticism of unusual character and most stimulating quality." — Athenaeum.

"There is a stream of subtle reflection in the three chapters in which he discusses the source and meaning of Lucretius' naturalism, of Dante's idealism, and Goethe's romanticism." — The Nation, New York.

CHIVALRY IN ENGLISH LITERATURE.

By WILLIAM HENRY SCHOFIELD, Ph.D., Professor of Comparative Literature in Harvard University. Harvard Studies in Comparative Literature, Vol. II. 12mo. Cloth. x + 294 pages. $2.25.

Four lectures on Chaucer, Malory, Spenser, and Shakespeare, delivered at the Sorbonne and the University of Copenhagen in the Spring of 1911, and now revised and enlarged. In his Introduction the author explains his purpose: "My object in these few lectures is to show, if I can, by an examination of the life and works of four celebrated English writers, how the ideal of French chivalry entered into English literature, and thereby affected the attitude of the English-speaking world. . . . I shall endeavor, in sum, to indicate the genesis of the idea conveyed by the English word 'gentleman,' with all that it suggests in our use."

"It was a real and great pleasure to us to read (Professor Schofield's volume)." — Academy.

"An excellent piece of work. . . . Apart from a too modern outlook, we have little but warm appreciation for the spirit and execution of these lectures." — Athenaeum.

"Professor Schofield wears his load of learning lightly, and the easy terseness of his style makes for readability." — Glasgow Herald.

THE COMEDIES OF HOLBERG.

By OSCAR JAMES CAMPBELL, Jr., Ph.D., Assistant Professor of English in the University of Wisconsin. Harvard Studies in Comparative Literature, Vol. III. 12mo. Cloth. x + 363 pages. $2.50.

Holberg, although perhaps the greatest of Danish writers, and ranking in interest with the great eighteenth-century dramatists of France, his contemporaries, has until now been almost unknown to English readers. This is the first time that an English book has been written concerning him. The volume should prove indispensable to students of European drama, since, after a complete biography of Holberg, the author traces his relations to French, Italian, English, German, and classical works. It will particularly interest historians of English literature because of Holberg's indebtedness to the essays of Addison and his group, which he came to admire during his two years' residence at Oxford.

MEDIAEVAL SPANISH ALLEGORY.

By CHANDLER RATHFON Post, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Greek and of Fine Arts in Harvard University. Harvard Studies in Comparative Literature, Vol. IV. 12mo. Cloth. xii + 331 pages. $2.50.

The development of Castilian allegory from its appearance in the vernacular during the thirteenth century to its culmination in the fifteenth pursued a course of more continuity and independence than has previously been recognized. French influence was a foregone conclusion, but it is part of the object of this book to prove that the accepted view, that Imperial began a series of borrowings from the Italian, is based upon a confusion of allegoric traditions.

POETIC ART IN BALLAD AND EPIC.

By FRANCIS BARTON GUMMERE, Ph.D., Litt.D., Professor of English in Haverford College. Harvard Studies in Comparative Literature, Vol. V. In preparation.

FRENCH INFLUENCES ON CHAUCER.

By JOHN LIVINGSTON LOWES, Ph.D., Professor of English in Washington University. Harvard Studies in Comparative Literature, Vol. VI. In preparation for the Spring, 1917.

BOETHIUS.

By EDWARD KENNARD RAND, Ph.D., Professor of Latin in Harvard University. In preparation.

THE LITERARY RELATIONS OF ENGLAND AND SCANDINAVIA FROM THE NORMAN CONQUEST TO 1300.

By HENRY GODDARD LEACH, Ph.D., Secretary of the American-Scandinavian Foundation. In preparation.

HARVARD STUDIES IN ROMANCE LANGUAGES

Edited by EDWARD STEVENS SHELDON, Professor of Romance Philology, Chairman, CHARLES HALL GRANDGENT, Professor of Romance Languages, JEREMIAH DENIS MATTHIAS FORD, Ph.D., Smith Professor of the French and Spanish Languages, and CHARLES HENRY CONRAD WRIGHT, M.A., Professor of the French Language and Literature in Harvard University.

VOL. I. THE POEMS OF GIACOMO DA LENTINO.

Critically edited by ERNEST FELIX Langley, Ph.D., Professor of French in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. 8vo. Cloth. 191 pages. $1.50.

The first complete and critical edition of the chief of the earliest Italian poets, one of the school which centered about the court of Frederick II. Giacomo's extant work comprises a score of canzoni, one discordo, and about thirty sonnets. All the poems connected with his name, whether authentic or doubtful or merely traditional in anthologies, are here reprinted. The text follows the best of the oldest codices, and is accompanied by the most significant variants. The introduction furnishes a brief life of Giacomo, and discusses his poetry and its sources. An appendix reprints the Latin documents written by Giacomo as imperial notary, and presents a glossary of archaic forms.

VOL. II. MAISTRE CHARLES FONTAINE.

By RICHMOND LAURIN HAWKINS, Ph.D., Instructor in French in Harvard University. In press. (See page 12.)

STUDIES AND NOTES IN PHILOLOGY AND LITERATURE

FINE ARTS

CATALOGUE OF THE FOGG ART MUSEUM.

In preparation.

CATALOGUE OF BRONZE REPRODUCTIONS OF ITALIAN AND FRENCH MEDALS OF THE RENAISSANCE.

Paper. 17 pages. 15 cents.

A catalogue of the collection given to the Fogg Museum by Horatio Greenough Curtis.

GUIDE TO THE LOEB COLLECTION OF ARRETINE POTTERY.

By GEORGE HENRY CHASE, Ph.D., John E. Hudson Professor of Classical Archaeology in Harvard University. Paper. 30 pages. 15 cents.

HANDBOOK TO EXHIBITION OF LINE ENGRAVINGS AFTER WATER COLOR DRAWINGS BY J. M. W. TURNER.

Paper. 83 pages. 25 cents.

A catalogue of prints exhibited at the Fogg Museum, with an introductory essay by Francis Bullard. Also a list of line engravings after Turner, with dates and places of publication.

HANDBOOK OF THE GERMANIC MUSEUM.

By KUNO FRANCKE, Ph.D., LL.D., Litt.D., Professor of the History of German Culture in Harvard University, and Curator of the Germanic Museum. 8vo. Paper. 54 pages, with illustrations. 25 cents. Out of print. Third edition in preparation.

EUTHYMIDES AND HIS FELLOWS.

By JOSEPH CLARK HOPPIN, Ph.D., sometime Professor of the Greek Language and Literature in the American School of Classical Studies at Athens. In press. (See page 12.)

A LOAN EXHIBITION OF EARLY ITALIAN ENGRAVINGS.

FOGG ART MUSEUM. A descriptive catalogue prepared by PAUL JOSEPH SACHS, A.B., Assistant Director of the Museum. Quarto. Paper. 357 pages. Illustrated. $2.00. (See page 12.)

GIOTTO AND SOME OF HIS FOLLOWERS.

By OSVALD SIRÉN, Ph.D., Professor of the History of Art in the University of Stockholm. In press. (See page 13.)

ARCHITECTURE*VITRUVIUS: THE TEN BOOKS ON ARCHITECTURE.

Translated by MORRIS HICKY MORGAN, Ph.D., LL.D., late Professor of Classical Philology in Harvard University. Prepared for publication by ALBERT ANDREW HOWARD, Ph.D., Pope Professor of Latin in Harvard University. Plans and drawings prepared by HERBERT LANGFORD WARREN, A.M., Nelson Robinson Jr. Professor of Architecture in Harvard University. Quarto. Cloth. xiv + 331 pages. $3.50.

Probably no other treatise has exercised such an influence upon the classical tradition in architecture. Vitruvius, contemporary of Augustus, was more than a Roman architect and engineer; he was a student of Greek philosophy and science, and his work forms the most important literary medium through which the principles of Roman architecture have been transmitted to modern times. From the early Renaissance, when Vitruvius was the final authority studied by such architects as Bramante, Michelangelo, Palladio, and Vignola, until a recent date, the architecture of almost all European countries has owed much to this treatise.

ARCHITECTURAL ACOUSTICS.

By WALLACE CLEMENT SABINE, A.M., S.D., Hollis Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy in Harvard University. In preparation.

CITY PLANNING.

By JAMES STURGIS PRAY, Charles Eliot Professor of Landscape Architecture in Harvard University, and THEODORA KIMBALL, Librarian of the School of Landscape Architecture in Harvard University. 8vo. Paper. 103 pages. $1.00.

The growth of interest in city planning has made a comprehensive exposition of its field necessary both for the librarian and bibliographer, and for those actively engaged in some branch of the work. The authors of this book have sought to make it serviceable to both these groups. Its principal divisions, worked out in connection with the Library of Congress scheme of numeration, will simplify the labors of cataloguers in many libraries. To architect, engineer, city official, or business man, such a volume is useful in classifying notes or in keeping a coördinated reference list, as well as in any collecting of material which needs comprehensive analysis of its component parts.

MUSIC

DOMINE SALVUM FAC PRAESIDEM NOSTRUM.

By JOHN KNOWLES PAINE, A.M., Mus.D., late Professor of Music in Harvard University. Quarto. 15 pages. 50 cents. (See page 13.)

CONTRIBUTIONS AND MEMOIRS FROM THE CRYPTOGAMIC LABORATORY.

For list and prices address the Cryptogamic Laboratory, University Museum, Cambridge, Mass.

A PROVISIONAL HOST-INDEX OF THE FUNGI OF THE UNITED STATES.

By WILLIAM GILSON FARLOW, M.D., LL.D., Ph.D., Professor of Cryptogamic Botany, and ARTHUR BLISS SEYMOUR, S.M., Assistant in the Cryptogamic Herbarium, Harvard University. 8vo. Paper. Part I, Poly-petalae, 53 pages. Part II, Gamopetalae, 80 pages. Part III, with corrigenda and index, 86 pages. Price, $3.00.

*CHEMISTRYTHE SCIENTIFIC WORK OF MORRIS LOEB.

Edited by THEODORE WILLIAM RICHARDS, Ph.D., S.D., LL.D., Chem.D., M.D., Erving Professor of Chemistry and Director of the Wolcott Gibbs Memorial Laboratory in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 349 pages, with portrait. $2.00.

A collection of essays, lectures, and reviews covering the life work of the late Professor Morris Loeb, one of the pioneers in America in the field of physical chemistry. The work is divided into two groups, the first including those papers of a more general character and of greater interest to the average reader; and the second, those recording the results of the author's experimental research. Two essays of particular interest, "The Fundamental Ideas of Physical Chemistry" and "Chemistry and Civilization," give a thoughtful and inspiring presentation of the usefulness of the science in the widest sense.

LOGARITHMS OF NUMBERS AND CHEMICAL FACTORS.

By CHARLES ROBERT SANGER, Ph.D., late Professor of Chemistry in Harvard University. Card. 25 cents.

Five-place tables of logarithms of the common factors used in analytical work, with four-place tables of logarithms and anti-logarithms of numbers.

*ENGINEERINGCOMPLEX HYPERBOLIC AND CIRCULAR FUNCTIONS.

By ARTHUR EDWIN KENNELLY, S.D., A.M., Professor of Electrical Engineering in Harvard University. Vol. I, Tables. 8vo. Cloth. 212 pages. $3.00. Vol. II, Chart Atlas. 20 x 20 in. Cloth. 52 pages. $4.00.

Extended tables of complex hyperbolic functions, although never before published, are nevertheless greatly needed, because they have immediate application to alternating current conducting lines, as employed in electrical engineering. The tables here presented, though prepared primarily to supply this practical need, are carried to a higher degree of numerical precision than would ordinarily be required, in order to make some contribution to fundamental mathematics. With the aid of well-known slight transformations, the same tables are also immediately available for evaluating complex circular functions, so that not only engineers, but mathematicians and physicists, will find these new tables useful. In order to permit of rapid graphic interpolation to a reduced degree of precision, the tables have all been plotted on a set of twenty-three large charts photo-engraved and reproduced on plates 45 x 45 cm. The atlas is published as a separate volume and as an accessory to the book of tables.

STATE SANITATION: A REVIEW OF THE WORK OF THE MASSACHUSETTS STATE BOARD OF HEALTH, 1869-1914.
By GEORGE CHANDLER WHIPPLE, S.B., Gordon McKay Professor of Sanitary Engineering in Harvard University. In press. (See page 13.)

FORESTRY

MANUAL FOR NORTHERN WOODSMEN.

By AUSTIN CARY, A.M., recently Assistant Professor of Forestry, and Lecturer on Lumbering and Forest Engineering in Harvard University. Fourth Impression. 16mo. Canvas. 250 pages, with illustrations and maps. $2.00.

A clear statement of the methods employed and the principles involved in the survey and valuation of logs, standing timber, and forest land. Land surveyors, scalers, and cruisers will find here in pocket form the information they need in the woods, and practical descriptions of the best modern methods; while to farmers and those casually interested in timber land the concise presentation of essentials will be very welcome. The book includes chapters on Land Surveying, Map Making, Log Measurement, Estimation of Standing Timber, and Tables and Miscellaneous Information.

“It is the best thing of its kind I have ever seen.” — F. A. Fenn, Supervisor, Clearwater National Forest, Idaho.

“I have purchased every book on forestry I have ever heard of and am pleased to say that it is the peer of them all. I keep a copy in my grip all the time and would just as soon think of going without my compass.” — F. J. D. Barnjum, Lynnfield Centre, Mass.

“This book gives a clear and intelligible explanation of forestering methods; yet since it requires no great previous training to use it, it is valuable not only to skilled foresters, but to those who buy up forest land and survey it to sell later." — Die Schweizerische Zeitschrift für Forstwesen.

STUDIES CONCERNING GLYCOSURIA AND DIABETES.

By FREDERICK MADISON ALLEN, M.D., of the Rockefeller Institute, New York, and recently Charles Follen Folsom Teaching Fellow at Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 1179 pages. $9.00.

There is no recent work in English on this subject, and the volumes published abroad by Naunyn, von Noorden, Lepine, and Rosenberger are not so comprehensive as is this book. It aims primarily to represent the results of research and to show that the cure of diabetes is a feasible experimental problem. In order to exhibit an improved therapy of this disease, three years were spent by the author in studying the physiology of sugar, the origin of diabetes as shown in a satisfactory reproduction of the human disease in laboratory animals, and various methods capable of modifying it. The book thus provides a full but ordered survey of the subject supplemented by detailed reviews of important portions of the literature, a working bibliography, and numerous statistical tables and microphotographs.

A LABORATORY COURSE IN PHYSIOLOGY.

By WALTER BRADFORD CANNON, A.M., M.D., George Higginson Professor of Physiology in Harvard University. Fourth Impression. Quarto. Cloth. 160 pages + 150 pages for notes. $2.50.

Complete directions for laboratory work are presented in this volume, and ample space is given for the student to add notes and records of experiments. The book includes chapters on Contraction, Conduction in the Nerve Trunk and in the Central Nervous System, Circulation of the Blood, Body Fluids and their Regulation, Secretion, Digestion, Absorption, Respiration, Metabolism, and Animal Heat.

THE PROFESSION OF MEDICINE: A COLLECTION OF LETTERS.

Edited by ARTHUR BREWSTER EMMONS, 2d, M.D., Director of the Appointments Bureau of the Harvard Medical School. Paper. 120 pages. 25 cents.

The results of a questionnaire concerning the medical profession, sent to recent graduates of the Harvard Medical School.

STATE SANITATION: A REVIEW OF THE WORK OF THE MASSACHUSETTS STATE BOARD OF HEALTH, 1869-1914.

By ELBRIDGE GERRY CUTLER, M.D., sometime Instructor in the Theory and Practice of Physic in Harvard University. 16mo. Cloth. 54 pages. 50 cents.

VOL. V. THE CARE OF THE TEETH.

By CHARLES ALBERT BRACKETT, D.M.D., Professor of Dental Pathology in Harvard University. 16mo. Cloth. 60 pages. 50 cents.

VOL. VI. ADENOIDS AND TONSILS.

By ALGERNON COOLIDGE, M.D., Professor of Laryngology in Harvard University. In preparation.

PHYSICS*CONTRIBUTIONS FROM THE JEFFERSON PHYSICAL LABORATORY.

A series of papers originally published in scientific journals, giving results of researches made in the Laboratory, both by instructors and by students. Further information will be furnished on application to the Laboratory.

PHYSICAL LABORATORY MANUAL.

By EMORY LEON CHAFFEE, Ph.D., Instructor in Physics and in Electrical Engineering in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 128 pages. $1.30.

This manual comprises thirty-five laboratory experiments of college grade, chosen from the fields of Mechanics, Sound, Heat, Light, and Electricity. In compiling this list of experiments, the aim has been to make the laboratory course interesting, not only to teach physical principles and to cultivate precision in measurement, but to bring out many practical applications of physics. For this reason the experiments differ widely in character and include some distinctly engineering problems. The list includes many new experiments which have been worked up in the Physical Laboratory of Harvard College.

COLLEGE LABORATORY MANUAL OF PHYSICS.

By EDWIN HERBERT HALL, Ph.D., LL.D., Rumford Professor of Physics in Harvard University. Second Edition, revised. 8vo. Cloth. 138 pages. 80 cents.

The exercises described in this book were written to provide laboratory accompaniment to a general course of lectures and textbook study extending through one college year. They do not profess to furnish training in exact measurement. Their primary object is to give first-hand acquaintance with as wide a range as possible of important facts, principles, and apparatus. The material is arranged under the heads of Mechanics, Heat, Electricity, Sound, and Light. In order to supplement the treatment in the ordinary college text-books, a special appendix has been written on Torricelli's Law and Fluid Friction.

DESCRIPTIVE LIST OF ELEMENTARY EXERCISES IN PHYSICS.

By EDWIN HERBERT HALL, Ph.D., LL.D., Rumford Professor of Physics in Harvard University. 8vo. Paper. ix + 88 pages. 40 cents.

Corresponding to the requirements in Elementary Experimental Physics for admission to Harvard College.

COMPLEX HYPERBOLIC AND CIRCULAR FUNCTIONS.

By ARTHUR EDWIN KENNELLY, S.D., A.M., Professor of Electrical Engineering in Harvard University. Vol. I, Tables. 8vo. Cloth. 212 pages. $3.00. Vol. II, Chart Atlas. 20 x 20 in. Cloth. 52 pages. $4.00. (See page 62.)

ARCHITECTURAL ACOUSTICS.

By WALLACE CLEMENT SABINE, A.M., S.D., Hollis Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy in Harvard University. In preparation.

ZOOLOGY*GENETICS AND EUGENICS.

A TEXTBOOK OF BIOLOGY AND A WORK OF REFERENCE FOR ANIMAL AND PLANT BREEDERS. By WILLIAM ERNEST CASTLE, Ph.D., Professor of Zoölogy in Harvard University. In press. (See page 13.)

PUBLICATIONS OF THE MUSEUM OF COMPARATIVE ZOOLOGY.

For list of titles and prices, apply to the Director of the Museum of Comparative Zoölogy, Cambridge, Mass.

CONTRIBUTIONS FROM THE ZOOLOGICAL LABORATORY OF THE MUSEUM OF COMPARATIVE ZOOLOGY.

For information apply to Professor E. L. MARK, Museum of Comparative Zoölogy, Cambridge, Mass.

V. MATHEMATICS

FORMULAS IN PLANE ANALYTIC GEOMETRY.

By MAXIME BÔCHER, Ph.D., Professor of Mathematics in Harvard University. Card. 10 cents.

FORMULAS IN SOLID ANALYTIC GEOMETRY.

By MAXIME BÔCHER, Ph.D., Professor of Mathematics in Harvard University. Card. 10 cents.

COMPLEX HYPERBOLIC AND CIRCULAR FUNCTIONS.

By ARTHUR EDWIN KENNELLY, S.D., A.M., Professor of Electrical Engineering in Harvard University. Vol. I, Tables. 8vo. Cloth. 212 pages. $3.00. Vol. II, Chart Atlas. 20 x 20 in. Cloth. 52 pages. $4.00. (See page 62.)

INTRODUCTION TO INFINITE SERIES.

By WILLIAM FOGG OSGOOD, Ph.D., LL.D., Perkins Professor of Mathematics in Harvard University. 8vo. Paper. 71 pages. 75 cents.

LOGARITHMS OF NUMBERS AND CHEMICAL FACTORS.

By CHARLES ROBERT SANGER, Ph.D., late Professor of Chemistry in Harvard University. Card. 25 cents. (See page 62.)

SYLLABUS OF PROPOSITIONS IN GEOMETRY.

Intended for the use of students preparing for Harvard College, and used in admission examinations. Revised Edition, covering Plane and Solid Geometry, Locus Problems, and Construction. 8vo. Paper. 36 pages. 10 cents.

REPRINTS FROM THE ANNALS OF MATHEMATICS, SECOND SERIES

GALOIS' THEORY ON ALGEBRAIC EQUATIONS.

By JAMES PIERPONT, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor of Mathematics in Yale University. Part I, Rational Resolvents; Part II, Irrational Resolvents. 1900 (from Vol. 2). 67 pages. 75 cents.

THE THEORY OF LINEAR DEPENDENCE.

By MAXIME BÔCHER, Ph.D., Professor of Mathematics in Harvard University. 1901 (from Vol. 2). 16 pages. 35 cents.

SUFFICIENT CONDITIONS IN THE CALCULUS OF VARIATIONS.

By WILLIAM FOGG OSGOOD, Ph.D., LL.D., Perkins Professor of Mathematics in Harvard University. 1901 (from Vol. 2). 25 pages. 50 cents.

SPACE OF CONSTANT CURVATURE.

By FREDERICK SHENSTONE Woods, Ph.D., Professor of Mathematics in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. 1902 (from Vol. 3). 42 pages. 50 cents.

THE INTEGRAL AS THE LIMIT OF A SUM AND A THEOREM OF DUHAMEL'S.

By WILLIAM FOGG OSGOOD, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor of Mathematics in Harvard University. 1903 (from Vol. 4). 18 pages. 35 cents.

THE FUNDAMENTAL LAWS OF ADDITION AND MULTIPLICATION IN ELEMENTARY ALGEBRA.

By EDWARD VERMILYE HUNTINGTON, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Mathematics in Harvard University. 1906 (from Vol. 8). 44 pages. 50 cents.

VI. PHILOSOPHY, PSYCHOLOGY, AND THEOLOGYPHILOSOPHYNICHIREN: THE BUDDHIST PROPHET.

By MASAHARU ANESAKI, A.M., Litt.D., Professor of the Science of Religion in the Imperial University of Tokyo. In press. (See page 14.)

PERSONALITY IN GERMAN LITERATURE BEFORE LUTHER.

By KUNO FRANCKE, Ph.D., LL.D., L.H.D., Professor of the History of German Culture in Harvard University. Ready in June. (See page 11.)

HARVARD ORIENTAL SERIES.

Editor-in-Chief, CHARLES ROCKWELL LANMAN, Ph.D., LL.D., Wales Professor of Sanskrit in Harvard University. (See page 47.)

THE RELIGIOUS THOUGHT OF THE GREEKS FROM HOMER TO THE TRIUMPH OF CHRISTIANITY.

By CLIFFORD HERSCHEL MOORE, Ph.D., Litt.D., Professor of Latin in Harvard University. In press. (See page 14.)

THREE PHILOSOPHICAL POETS.

By GEORGE SANTAYANA, Ph.D., Litt.D., sometime Professor of Philosophy in Harvard University. Harvard Studies in Comparative Literature, Vol. I. Second Impression. 12mo. Cloth. 215 pages. $2.25. (See page 54.)

PSYCHOLOGY*CASE STUDIES OF MENTALLY AND MORALLY ABNORMAL TYPES.

By WILLIAM HEALY, M.D., Director of the Juvenile Psychopathic Institute of Chicago. 8vo. Paper. 77 pages + 74 pages for notes. $1.00.

A series of synoptic studies presenting selected details illustrating the kind of data that must be gathered before cases of abnormality in children can be safely diagnosed. The book is designed particularly for class-room work, and each study represents a definite problem for interpretation and solution by the use of the given collection of facts. The material has been collected under the endowment of the Juvenile Psychopathic Institute of Chicago.

HARVARD PSYCHOLOGICAL STUDIES.

Published annually by the Harvard Psychological Laboratory. Edited by HUGO MÜNSTERBERG, Ph.D., M.D., LL.D., Litt.D., Professor of Psychology and Director of the Psychological Laboratory in Harvard University. Three volumes issued. A limited number of Volume III only are available for distribution to libraries and psychological laboratories.

MATERIALS FOR A STUDY OF THE SELF.

By ROBERT MEARN'S YERKES, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Comparative Psychology in Harvard University, and Psychologist to the Psychopathic Hospital, Boston; and by DANIEL WOLFORD LARUE, Ph.D., Professor of Psychology in the State Normal School, East Stroudsburg, Pa. Second Edition, revised. Quarto. Cloth. 36 pages + 24 blank sheets. $1.00.

An outline, with questions covering important phases of physical and mental inheritance, and affording an intimate description of one's physical habits. Space is left for the student to write in his answer.

THEOLOGY AND RELIGION*THEISM AND CHRISTIAN FAITH.

By CHARLES CARROLL EVERETT, A.M., S.T.D., LL.D., first Bussey Professor of Theology, 1869-1900, and Dean of the Divinity School in Harvard University, 1878-1900. Edited by the Rev. EDWARD HALE, S.T.B. 8vo. Cloth. 491 pages. $2.50.

A record, edited from students' notes, of a most characteristic course of lectures delivered at the Harvard Divinity School by one of its most revered professors. Dr. Everett deals with the craving for unity, in thought, in social relations, and in aesthetic experience. The first can be realized only in spirit, the second shows that this must be conceived in terms of love, and the third shows the ideal manifest in the diversity of the actual.

"A book which . . . no thoughtful minister can well afford to leave out of his library, unless he can borrow it." — Auburn Seminary Record.

"The editor has succeeded not only in accurately reproducing Dr. Everett's thought, but also in suggesting the charm of delivery . . . 'too full for sound or foam.'" — The Nation, New York.

"To the preacher who is dealing with life at first hand . . . this book is of the highest value." — The Christian Register.

THE RELIGIOUS THOUGHT OF THE GREEKS FROM HOMER TO THE TRIUMPH OF CHRISTIANITY.

By CLIFFORD HERSCHEL MOORE, Ph.D., Litt.D., Professor of Latin in Harvard University. In press. (See page 14.)

JUDAISM AT THE BEGINNING OF THE CHRISTIAN ERA.

By GEORGE FOOT MOORE, A.M., D.D., LL.D., Frothingham Professor of the History of Religion in Harvard University. In preparation.

METEMPSYCHOSIS.

By GEORGE FOOT MOORE, A.M., D.D., LL.D., Frothingham Professor of the History of Religion in Harvard University. The Ingersoll Lecture for 1914. 16mo. Cloth. 84 pages. 75 cents.

That the doctrine of transmigration, at first sight so fantastic, has a practical significance even today, will be a surprise to many; yet it is clearly shown by this survey of the various forms in which this religious doctrine has appeared, in religions ancient and modern, occidental as well as oriental.

THE RELIGIOUS HISTORY OF NEW ENGLAND.

By J. W. PLATNER, G. E. HORR, GEORGE HODGES, W. W. FENN, W. E. HUNTINGTON, R. M. JONES, J. C. ADAMS, and W. L. WORCESTER. In press. (See page 15.)

APPLIED ETHICS.

By THEODORE ROOSEVELT, LL.D., D.C.L., L.H.D., Ph.D. William Bellden Noble Lecture delivered at Harvard University in 1910. 12mo. Cloth, gilt top. 50 pages. 75 cents.

An appeal to young men to make practical application of ethical principles in their daily lives, supported by concrete instances from the digging of the Panama Canal, the efforts to conserve our national resources, and the work for international peace.

HARVARD THEOLOGICAL REVIEW.

Issued quarterly by the Faculty of Divinity in Harvard University. Editors, Professor WILLIAM W. FENN, Professor KIRSOPP LAKE, Rev. FREDERIC PALMER, and Professor JAMES H. ROPES. (See page 72.)

RESPONSIVE READINGS.

Selected from the Bible and arranged under subjects by Dr. HENRY VAN DYKE. Compiled and edited under direction of the University for use in Appleton Chapel. 16mo. Full leather. 202 pages. 75 cents.

THE UNIVERSITY HYMN BOOK.

An undenominational Hymn Book containing 289 hymns and tunes, and Biographical Indexes of Authors, Translators, and Composers. Compiled and edited under the direction of the University for use in Appleton Chapel. 12mo. Full leather, $1.75. Cloth, $1.25.

HARVARD STUDIES IN THEOLOGY

Published under the general direction of the Faculty of Divinity of Harvard University.

THE ARAMAIC SOURCE OF ACTS 1-15.

By CHARLES CUTLER TORREY, D.D., Professor of the Semitic Languages in Yale University. Harvard Studies in Theology, Vol. I. (See page 15.)

THE PAULINE IDEA OF FAITH IN ITS RELATION TO JEWISH AND HELLENISTIC RELIGION.

By WILLIAM HENRY PAYNE HATCH, D.D., Professor of the Language and Literature of the New Testament in the General Theological Seminary, New York. Harvard Studies in Theology, Vol. II. (See page 15.)

THE SPIRITUAL MESSAGE OF DANTE.

By the Rt. Rev. WILLIAM BOYD CARPENTER, D.D., D.C.L., D.Litt., LL.D., K.C.V.O., Canon of Westminster. 8vo. Cloth. 250 pages. $1.50. (See page 53.)

EUGIPPIUS: THE LIFE OF SAINT SEVERINUS.

Translated into English for the first time with Notes and Appendices, by GEORGE WASHINGTON ROBINSON, A.B., Secretary of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 141 pages, with maps. $1.50. (See page 17.)

WILLIBALD: THE LIFE OF SAINT BONIFACE.

Translated into English for the first time, with Introduction and Notes, by GEORGE WASHINGTON ROBINSON, A.B., Secretary of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in Harvard University. 8vo. Cloth. 114 pages. $1.15. (See page 8.)

VII. PERIODICALS

QUARTERLY JOURNAL OF ECONOMICS.

Editor, FRANK WILLIAM TAUSSIG, Ph.D., LL.B., Litt.D., Henry Lee Professor of Economics in Harvard University. Associate Editors, Professors T. N. CARVER, W. Z. RIPLEY, O. M. W. SPRAGUE, C. J. BULLOCK, E. F. GAY, and W. M. COLE of Harvard University. Published quarterly in November, February, May, and August. Subscription, $3.00 a year; foreign, $3.25.

The Quarterly Journal of Economics aims to promote research and to advance economic science, and in so doing it receives and welcomes contributions from all schools of thought. It gives a good share of space to economic theory and economic history, but it publishes also substantial articles on questions of the day.

HARVARD LAW REVIEW.

Published monthly during the academic year, November to June, by a board of students in the Harvard Law School. Subscription, $2.50 a year; foreign, $3.00.

Complete sets, including twenty-eight volumes and a cumulated index to Volumes I-XXVIII inclusive: in half-pigskin, $105.00; in buckram, $85.00. Five per cent discount for cash payment. The Index may be bought separately: in paper, $1.50; buckram, $2.50; half-pigskin, $3.50.

The Harvard Law Review contains leading articles by prominent lawyers and juristic thinkers, English and American, together with editorial notes and comments on current cases of interest, and reliable book reviews by well-known authorities.

"I think the Harvard Law Review is one of the most useful law publications in the country." — William H. Taft.

"I find the Harvard Law Review the most helpful and suggestive periodical that I see." — Justice F. J. Swayze, New Jersey.

HARVARD THEOLOGICAL REVIEW.

Editorial Committee, Professor WILLIAM WALLACE FENN, Professor KIR-SOPP LAKE, Rev. FREDERIC PALMER, and Professor JAMES HARDY ROPES of Harvard University. Published in January, April, July, and October. Subscription, $2.00 a year; foreign, $2.25.

The Review is an undenominational quarterly which aims to include discussions in the various fields of theological study, and also in the theological and religious aspects of the history of religions, ethics, education, economics, and sociology. It seeks to maintain a spirit at once catholic and scientific, in sympathy with the aims and activities of the Christian Church as well as with scholarly research.

THE MILITARY HISTORIAN AND ECONOMIST.

Editors, ROBERT MATTESON JOHNSTON, A.M., Assistant Professor of Modern History in Harvard University, and Captain A. L. CONGER, U.S.A., Director of the Historical Seminary at the Army Service School, Fort Leavenworth, Kans. Published in January, April, July, and October. Subscription, $3.00 a year; foreign, $3.20.

The policy of the editors is to secure the best experts in foreign countries, as well as in the United States. They hope that this periodical will appeal not merely to army and navy officers anxious to keep abreast with the theory of their profession, but also to the man of business who realizes that the isolation of this country has gone forever, that the clash of armies is merely the most violent incident of increasingly sharp trade competition, and that modern doctrines of the conduct of war repose largely on economic foundations.

HARVARD UNIVERSITY GAZETTE.

Published weekly during the academic year. Subscription, $1.00 a year.

The Gazette is the official medium for announcements by the several Boards and Faculties of the University. It also includes notices of lectures, conferences, and concerts, and a monthly list of the titles of publications by members of the University.

VIII. OFFICIAL PUBLICATIONS OF THE UNIVERSITY

THE OFFICIAL REGISTER OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY.

This series also includes the Annual Reports of the President and Treasurer (bound in a single volume, and sent regularly to all graduates who ask for them); the Annual Announcement of Harvard College (a reprint of part of the University Catalogue); the Annual Catalogues of the Graduate and Professional Schools; the Announcement of Courses of Instruction, and the Announcements of Departments. These publications are distributed without charge.

THE ANNUAL UNIVERSITY CATALOGUE.

12mo. Cloth. xxxv + 1009 pages. 50 cents. Postage extra.

The Annual Catalogue comprises the announcements of Harvard College, the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate Schools of Applied Science, the Graduate School of Business Administration, the Divinity School, the Law School, the Medical School, the Graduate School of Medicine, the Dental School, the Department of University Extension, the Library, the Museums, the Observatory, etc., making a volume of more than 1000 pages. Paper-bound copies are sent without charge to all graduates who ask to be put on the mailing list, and to inquirers who ask for information concerning several departments of the University.

---

EXAMINATION PAPERS.

Papers provided for FINAL EXAMINATIONS in the various courses under the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. In four annual pamphlets: I. Ancient Languages. II. Modern Languages. III. Philosophy, History, the Arts, and Forestry. IV. Mathematics and the Sciences. Each, fifty cents.

Papers for the June ADMISSION EXAMINATIONS for Harvard College and the Dental School are printed in pamphlet form, and a single copy of this pamphlet, for a recent year, may be obtained on application. The separate papers of both June and September Admission Examinations for several years past are sold in quantities of not less than six copies of any one paper, at ten cents a dozen.

OFFICIAL GUIDE TO HARVARD UNIVERSITY.

16mo. Paper. 174 pages. 51 illustrations and a map. 50 cents.

THE QUINQUENNIAL CATALOGUE OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY, 1636-1915.

8vo. Cloth. 1045 pages. $3.00.

This Catalogue gives the names of the officers of instruction and government, with their periods of service; also the names of the graduates in all departments, and of the recipients of honorary degrees, arranged both alphabetically and according to the years in which the degrees were conferred. Against the names of alumni are noted the degrees conferred by other institutions, permanent professional appointments, and other honors.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL CONTRIBUTIONS.

Issued from time to time by the University Library. Sixty numbers have been printed. A list of those in stock, with prices, will be sent on request.

THE HARVARD UNIVERSITY DIRECTORY, 1913.

8vo. Cloth. 1652 pages. $2.50.

This Directory seeks to give the names, addresses, and occupations of all men now alive who have been students in any department of the University long enough to have their names included in the first annual Catalogue after their registration. The Directory is divided into two parts, the first in alphabetical order, the second classified geographically.

GENERAL CATALOGUE OF THE DIVINITY SCHOOL OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY, 1915.

8vo. x + 253 pages. Cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. Postage extra.

QUINQUENNIAL CATALOGUE OF THE LAW SCHOOL OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY, 1817-1914.

8vo. Cloth. xvi + 730 pages. $2.00. Postage extra.

QUINQUENNIAL CATALOGUE OF THE DENTAL SCHOOL OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY, 1869-1910.

8vo. Cloth. 135 pages, with cuts of graduates, etc. $1.00. Postage extra.

HARVARD MEMORIAL BIOGRAPHIES, of men who died in the Civil War. 8vo. 2 vols. Cloth. 930 pages. $3.00.A RECORD OF THE COMMEMORATION OF THE 250TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE FOUNDING OF HARVARD COLLEGE, 1886.

8vo. Cloth. 380 pages. $2.00.
